BIG SHANGHAI AREA BURNS AS BATTLE LINE SHIFTS

Known Dead In Alaska Mine N; Three Missing

Four Men Escape Unhurt in Coal Pit Blast; Foreman Badly Burned

Theories Vary As To Cause

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Eleven bodies of miners killed in an explosion in the Evan Jones coal mine were brought to Anchorage today, leaving the fate of three others still undetermined.

Five bodies were removed from the mine during the night, in addition to the six found shortly after the unexplained blast had ripped through the mine Tuesday.

Four men escaped unhurt from the mine 1,800 feet up a mountainside 60 miles from here and one other, Vic Raide, foreman, was severely burned.

BODIES BURNED

The bodies brought here today were placed in a mortuary to await identification. Most of them were so badly burned they could not be immediately recognized.

Officials of the mine, which supplies the Alaska Railroad with coal, had not yet issued a list of the crew of 19 men working at the time of the explosion.

The four who escaped unhurt were reported to have told rescuers they made a quick exit on hearing the blast. The spot where they stood soon was engulfed as sections of the mine caved in.

LITTLE HOPE FOR THREE

Z. J. Loussac, vice-president of the mine company, said the rescuers would continue until the other three men or bodies were brought to the surface. He said he held little hope the men still were alive.

Drs. A. S. Walkowski and Howard G. Romig rushed to the mine from Anchorage, to aid any injured brought to the surface.

Three theories were tentatively advanced as to the cause of the blast. One blamed a faulty motor, another attributed it to a mine cave-in, and another speculated that low barometric pressure might have caused an accumulation of gases. Loussac, however, said there were no gases in the mine.

The Alaska Railroad sent a special train consisting of a baggage car with mine-rescue equipment. A sleeping car and a coach to stand by and bring back the victims to Anchorage.

Loussac said a list of victims would not be available until late today.

NEW INSURGENT DRIVES IN SPAIN

While Nations' Conferees Discuss Volunteers, Franco Realigns Forces

MADRID (AP)—A new drive to cut government Spain into two parts was believed foreshadowed today by reports of large concentrations of insurgent troops north of Teruel.

The Teruel area reaches from the French frontier to a point about 135 miles due east of Madrid. It juts within 80 miles of the Mediterranean, just north of Valencia.

The closing of that 80-mile gap would cut off Catalonia, prospective seat of the republican government, from the rest of government Spain, including Valencia and Madrid.

Government sources said the insurgent General Franco also was massing forces, including aircraft and artillery, for a major drive on Madrid tomorrow.

Francoists Halt British Ship

LONDON (AP)—British warships within wireless range were asked today, Lloyd's reported, to assist the British S.S. Stanray after it had been fired on and halted by a Spanish insurgent trawler in the Bay of Biscay.

Advices to the London underwriting concern said the 880-ton vessel had been attacked three and a half miles off Aviles.

Driving Tests In B.C. Planned

Bill Expected to Go Before Liberal Caucus Soon

Legislation to enforce tests on automobile drivers in British Columbia will go before the Liberal caucus shortly, it is understood at the Legislative Buildings.

This is to be part of a government campaign to cut down on the mounting toll of accidents and highway fatalities.

It is expected that, for a start, the establishment of testing stations in Victoria and Vancouver will be proposed.

Drivers would be tested by special machines, not just in ordinary automobiles. Sitting in them as if in a car, they would be tested for eyesight, reflexes and reactions to particular driving situations.

An important feature of the proposed tests would be an examination on traffic laws and driving rules. Traffic enforcement officials believe that disregard of the traffic rules, often through ignorance, is the cause of many accidents.

Co-eds Form B.C. Rifle Team

VANCOUVER (CP)—The University of British Columbia is to have a women's rifle team, it was announced today. The co-eds, under supervision of Lieut. Ronald Roberts, will provide their own ammunition, using rifles and an indoor range paid for by the cadets themselves. No government equipment will be used.

British Cruiser Saves Refugees

BORDEAUX, France (AP)—The British cruiser Southampton reached here today with 300 Spanish government adherents, their wives and children, who were found terror-stricken in the hold of a sinking ship 150 miles off the French coast.

They had been without food for five days and had little water, in their flight from Gijon.

Irish Sweepstake Brings $420,000 To People In Canada

Montrealer Gets $148,650 On Punch; J. E. Sparrow, Vancouver, Gets $49,550

TORONTO (CP)—Big Canadian winner in the Irish Free State sweepstakes on Newmarket's classic Cesarewitch today was a young engineer, J. W. R. Sheppard, who will collect $148,650 of the approximate $420,000 the sweeps yielded to Canadians.

Sheppard, whose $2.50 ticket drew the winner, Punch, was working on a construction project down the St. Lawrence River, far below Montreal, when Punch won him a fortune on the turf at Newmarket, Montreal relatives said he refused a syndicate's $20,000 offer for a half interest in the ticket.

"Como" was the pseudonym Sheppard used on his ticket. He was working at Coneau Bay on the St. Lawrence.

John E. Sparrow of North Vancouver won $49,550 when Solar Bear placed third in the Newmarket race. Sparrow said before the race he had decided against selling any share of his ticket.

RECEIVE $1,920 EACH—Twenty-six Canadians held tickets on starters and the 24 horses failed to get up in the top three had to be content with $1,920 each. They won the same amount as the 48 who drew non-starters.

Third biggest Canadian winner—with no race worry attached, either—was a Calgary syndicate of 25 persons. The

Thieves Escape After Pursuit

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three men in a stolen automobile escaped early today when a short chase by a police car ended as the men leaped from the vehicle and fled, allowing it to crash into an old building.

Examination of the badly damaged automobile by officers found it loaded with tobacco and cigarettes, later identified as having been stolen from a downtown store.

The car was found to be the property of R. S. Fleming, who was not aware of its loss.

PAUSE IN TALKS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor's peace conference recessed today until November 4 after each side had turned down the other's peace proposal.

Harvey Fremming, one of the Committee for Industrial Organization negotiators, said the recess was "in no way considered a permanent disagreement."

Ill in Winnipeg

Winnipeg (CP)—Some improvement was noted today in the condition of Rev. C. W. Gordon, Canadian author, who wrote numerous books under the pen-name of Ralph Connor. He is seriously ill in the Misericordia Hospital here following an operation two weeks ago. He is the father of Prof. J. King Gordon, possible C.C.F. candidate in the Victoria federal by-election.

Sinking Funds Over $32,000,000

Investments for Debt Redemption Shown in Public Accounts

British Columbia sinking funds, invested for redemption of debt, amounted to $32,620,668 at last March 31, according to the public accounts tabled in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance. This was an increase of $1,552,710 over the amount in sinking funds at the end of the previous fiscal year. The increase is made up of interest earned during the year and $224,052 in sinking funds on inscribed stock set aside.

The comptroller-general, in his certification of the balance sheet says:

"Deposits for the fiscal year to the credit of the Minister of Finance as trustee for the sinking funds were in arrears at March 31, 1937, to the extent of $2,467,230.75. The aggregate arrears to March 31, 1937, amount to the sum of $10,858,636."

The highway system of British Columbia is carried on the provincial books at a value of $67,900,360, which is described as the replacement value. Bridges are valued at $9,300,905, the sum of $1,736,037 being added during the year, which marked partial construction of the new Fraser River bridge.

In Paris Duke of Windsor Says His U.S. Tour Has No Political Angle

PARIS (AP)—The Duke of Windsor, in his first public speech since his broadcast farewell to the Empire after his abdication last December, announced today he was going to the United States as a "completely independent observer, without political consideration," and that he hoped to aid in "solving some of the vital problems that beset the world today."

The Duke addressed a meeting of the Anglo-American Press Association.

After completing his prepared speech to the more than 100 British and U.S. correspondents, the Duke said informally that "I want to thank you all sincerely for having allowed this association

Tokio Rejects Invitation to Nine-Power Talks At Brussels

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—Japan has officially rejected the invitation to the Nine-power pact signatories. A note rejecting the bid was handed to the Belgian ambassador Wednesday.

Baron Albert de Bassompierre, the Belgian envoy, arrived at the Foreign Office to receive the communication after it had been approved by Emperor Hirohito.

Koki Hirota, the Foreign Minister, had gone to the palace with the note, and later received the British and United States ambassadors, Sir Robert Craigie and Joseph Clark Grew, "to explain why Japan is refusing to go to Brussels."

He also indicated the attitude that Japan intended to take toward the deliberations of the conference.

The note declared the conference was inspired by the League of Nations and would "put serious obstacles in the path of a just and proper solution" of the conflict.

(The Belgian Foreign Office announced Tuesday in Brussels that the opening of the nine-power pact consultations had been postponed from next Saturday to next Wednesday.)

The Japanese Foreign Office simultaneously released a long informal statement which asserted the Nine-power Treaty was obsolete.

Pattullo Is Honored By B.C. University

Premier Receives LL.D. Degree and Addresses Fall Congregation

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier T. D. Pattullo today was awarded an honorary Doctorate of Laws from the University of British Columbia and a few moments later, as principal speaker at the annual fall congregation, paid tribute to "Those men and women who, throughout the years, have sought to create and to maintain a university that may legitimately claim to rank with the best of our institutions."

"I know something of the vicissitudes which the university encountered in its early stages, and I know also something of the struggles and arduous work that have since been necessary to maintain and improve the university's standards," he said.

HARD TO NAVIGATE

Speaking of the difficulties of government, the Premier suggested:

"The ship of state is the largest and most difficult ship in the world to navigate. Everybody wants to be captain, the crew is sometimes mutinous, while the passengers, to whom governmental navigation is a simple process, want to go everywhere at the same time.

Eden Warns Japan Against Air Attacks on Nationals At Shanghai

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, amid cheers in the House of Commons, said today that Great Britain had informed Japan she must "always" expect retaliatory fire if there be any repetition of the fatal attack on a British post in Shanghai on October 24.

Mr. Eden declared that the air attack, in which one soldier was killed, was "inexcusable" and said British troops were "entirely justified" in shooting at the airplane.

Mr. Eden, who announced he would head the British delegation to the Nine-Power Conference which will attempt to mediate the Japanese-Chinese war, disclosed His Majesty's government had accepted Japan's apology for the air attack, but gave out a warning at the same time regarding retaliatory fire.

STATEMENT AWAITED

He said the British authorities were awaiting a report now from the Japanese as to steps they had taken to fulfill their promise to "deal suitably" with the offending airmen.

Mr. Eden did not answer when the Communist, William Calhoun, asked him if he would report the matter to the League of Nations.

Men Joining Forest Camps

VANCOUVER (CP)—Seeking enrolment in government forestry camps, several hundred single unemployed men stood in the rain today waiting their turn for registration at the government employment office here.

As early as 7 the line began to form, for the most part men without overcoats clad only in jackets and sweaters. Of all ages, the men in the majority were from 20 to 30, although some were still in their teens.

The forestry camps offer those enrolling 30 cents per hour worked, "less statutory deductions." Board, lodging and transportation are to be deducted at 75 cents per day.

ARREST DEMANDED

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Former Premier Andre Tardieu's admission in court Tuesday during a libel suit that he had given financial aid to militant French rightists stirred political circles today and led Communists and Socialists to demand his arrest for making such disbursements while holding office.

By MORRIS J. HARRIS Associated Press Foreign Staff SHANGHAI—Teeming Chapei met its final doom Wednesday night.

Whipped by a southerly wind, miles of flames swept through what was left of this one-time humanity-packed city. The fires started early in the day when the Chinese resistance to the Japanese collapsed.

The scenes here Wednesday night were virtually identical to those this correspondent saw in 1932 when the Chinese 19th Route Army ended its heroic stand against the Japanese in the same sector.

Stretching from well toward Ulangwan southward into Chapei, native quarter of north Shanghai, to the very edges of the International Settlement, thence westward for an undetermined number of miles, uncontrolled fire swept whatever was in its path.

DEFENDERS FIGHT ON

Patches of shell-torn but thus far unburned buildings dotted this huge area in which courageous Chinese troops, refusing to retreat before the Japanese thrust, fought on.

But they seemingly were destined to be engulfed in the flames if Japanese bullets did not bring a speedier end.

Vast sheets of flame shot toward the sky. The heat was so intense it was felt throughout the city.

Firemen from the International Settlement, deployed on the south bank of Soochow Creek, continued to fight to save the foreign area from destruction. In a single area where the flames jumped the creek, 150 buildings were burned, but the firemen said the fire was under control.

Beyond the western borders of the settlement where the Chinese and Japanese seemingly were preparing to resume their fighting, additional fires lighted the horizon.

The combat brought into play the full power of Japanese warships in the Whangpoo and Chinese land batteries. They fired steadily until after night-fall.

FIRES COVER RETREAT

Chinese put torches to buildings to cover their retreat from positions they had held for more than two months. Japanese did likewise to drive Chinese rear-guard snipers from barricades and blasted ruins.

Flames first broke out in Chapei at dawn, when Chinese began their general retreat. In the afternoon the northern and western skies were clouded with black smoke. Over an expanse of six or seven miles, towers of flame shot skyward.

West of the settlement, fires broke out near the Shanghai-Nanking railway tracks, further encircling the foreign area.

Spain Refugee Policy Scored

British Commons Hears Greenwood, Labor, Urge More Rescues

LONDON (CP)—From the front Labor bench, Rt. Hon. Arthur Greenwood, deputy leader of the opposition, bitterly attacked Rt. Hon. Alfred Duff Cooper, First Lord of the Admiralty, in the House of Commons today.

The reference was to Mr. Duff Cooper's statement in the debate Tuesday night in regard to rescue of Spanish war refugees when an opposition member asked if the government's policy was for ships to let people drown if the drowning occurred within the three-mile limit.

The First Lord replied that territorial waters must be observed and added: "What goes on in Spain is not our concern, but we will keep the high seas free for British commerce." He said 89,000 people were being evacuated from northern Spain under protection of British ships.

"I think every citizen who has read the First Lord's statement in the House yesterday," Mr. Greenwood declared, "must be revolted. That speech deserves the complete contempt of all decent-minded people. It is a disgrace to the cause of our common humanity. It showed a callous disregard of loss of human life. It is a shame to this House. It reflects no credit on the humanity of the man who made it."

AMENDMENT COMING

Mr. Greenwood, continuing the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the Throne, to which Rt. Hon. Herbert Morrison is to move a formal Labor amendment on Friday, described the King's speech as one of "rags and tatters, made up of oddments of all shapes and sizes."

"It oozed complacency but indicated no policy to meet the threatened trade slump or the rising cost of living, or towards organized peace," he said. The government participated in the destruction of the League of Nations as an effective force. Now, by a significant omission in the King's speech, they have cast it to the wolves."

lete because of what it termed infiltration of Communism into China and declared "the Japanese nation, rising as one man, is united in a determination to surmount all obstacles for the purpose of effecting a speedy settlement."

"The Chinese-Japanese difficulties can be solved only through direct negotiations between the two powers on whom falls the common burden of responsibility for the stability of east Asia," the informal statement argued.

The formal note said: "Japan's action in China is a measure of self-defence which she was compelled to take in the face of China's violent anti-Japanese policy and practice, especially by her provocative acts appealing to the force of arms; consequently, as the Imperial government already has declared, it lies outside the purview of the Nine-Power Treaty."

"The Assembly of the League of Nations has even gone to the length of assuring China moral support and recommending that its members abstain from any action which might weaken China's power of resistance and add difficulties to the present conflict, and also to study how they might individually aid China."

"This takes sides with one of the parties and encourages a hostile disposition but in no way contributes toward early settlement."

Stating the League resolution cast a "reflection on the honor of Japan," the formal note continued:

"Under these circumstances the Imperial government is constrained to believe that a frank, full discussion to bring about a just, equitable and realistic solution of the conflict between Japan and China cannot be expected between the powers concerned at the proposed conference."

The present Chinese-Japanese conflict, arising from a special situation in east Asia, has a vital bearing upon the very existence of the two countries. The Imperial government are firmly convinced that an attempt to seek a solution at a gathering of so many powers whose interest in east Asia are of varying degrees or who have practically no interests there at all will only serve to complicate the situation still further and put serious obstacles in the path of a just and proper solution."

Chiang Says Loss At Port Not End of War With Japan

By JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Foreign Staff

NANKING—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, commenting today on the retreat of Chinese troops from Chapel, Kiangwan and Tazang in hard fighting around Shanghai, declared the Shanghai operations were never envisaged as part of China's real defence plans.

The Shanghai phase of the war, the supreme commander of China's armies said, was a Japanese thrust against which China had insufficient time to prepare adequate defences.

"As a matter of fact, we were forbidden by the Shanghai agreement of 1932 from military occupation and preparation of defences for Shanghai," he said.

DID THEIR BEST

"We were forced to resist Japan and protect ourselves. We did the best possible. This was exemplified by the magnificent resistance of our soldiers at Chapel."

Chiang Kai-shek explained China's present military situation at Shanghai was unsatisfactory, but gave the government no cause for anxiety because the nation's real defences are westward.

"What has occurred at Shanghai and in Hopeh (North China) cannot be regarded as a determining factor during the remainder of the war because in those places we had no chance to prepare adequate defences. But in other places we are prepared," the generalissimo asserted.

British and United States defence forces guarding the settlement borders against possible military emergencies became fire guards as well.

MOPPING UP

As the flames roared on, Japanese warplanes strafed retreating Chinese with bombs and machine gun bullets. The Japanese announced their forces had occupied Chapel, but said a number of isolated Chinese units remained.

Just west of the settlement boundary, Chinese and Japanese armies raced each other from opposite banks of winding, muddy Soochow Creek. During the night and day of fighting in which Japanese occupied Chapel—China's Alcazar—Chinese were driven across the Shanghai-Nanking railroad and down the northwest boundary of the foreign area.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's warriors dug in along the southern bank of the creek, prepared to force the Japanese to wage another major engagement. At nightfall Wednesday flames lit up the Shanghai sky from the Whangpoo River to the western border of the settlement.

GATES CLOSED

British defenders closed barbed wire gates and refused to permit any more refugees fleeing from the Japanese. Thousands of Chinese surged against the barricades, screaming in terror, but British declared opening the gateway would imperil the settlement.

Because machine gun fire endangered the settlement's western border, the British consul-general warned all British nationals to be ready to evacuate dangerous territory.

British troops holding an outpost at a railroad bridge across Soochow Creek, just outside St. John's University campus, fell back to a safer post near Jessfield Park. The troops reported a Japanese airplane had machine-gunned approximately 100 refugees streaming across the bridge, killing 10 and wounding 25.

NORTHERN FIGHT

PEIPING (CP-Havas)—Japanese troops Wednesday occupied Niantzckwan, the main entrance to Shansi province, Japanese headquarters announced.

The march on the provincial capital of Talyuan would now proceed, it was said, from the west, while simultaneously a column pushing down from Tatum would resume its southward march.

(Chinese reports insisted that defending forces held Yenmen Pass, cutting off the Japanese troops driving toward Taituan from that sector.)

(Central Chinese News Agency dispatches at Nanking insisted the Japanese were falling back from Niantzckwan toward Shihchiachung. The agency said it was believed this heralded a new strategic plan by the Japanese to deal with the unexpectedly strong resistance.)

On the Peiping-Hankow and Tientsin-Pukow railway fronts no movements were reported.

Nine Chinese bombers raided Japanese lines near the Chang River in north Honan, but were driven off by Japanese airmen, headquarters announced here. Two of the raiders were brought down.

to be the platform from which I could express to you frankly the thoughts that I hope will go around the world."

After the luncheon, the Duke said he would sail for the United States aboard the liner Bremen on November 6. The Bremen is scheduled to reach New York November 11.

In answer to a question from a newspaperman the Duke said he would not go to Canada "this time." He added that he had not even thought of going to South America. He revealed he and the Duchess would spend about five weeks in the United States.

PERSONAL REMARKS

The text of the Duke's address follows:

"When Mr. Phillip (Percy L. Phillip, president of the club) invited me to this luncheon on your behalf, I accepted with pleasure, but with the stipulation that I should not be called upon to make a speech."

"However, in the light of recent press comments I have, with your chairman's permission, called upon myself to say a few words."

"They do not concern public affairs but are of a personal nature and I wish first of all to thank you for your hospitality and for the spirit of the invitation."

"When Mr. Phillip originally invited me, he used the following words: 'At all times and in all circumstances you have shown such understanding of, and patience with, those working newspapermen and those working journalists whose duty it has been to report Your Royal Highness' doings and words in times past, that our association felt it would be their very great pleasure to entertain you at luncheon as a private citizen during your stay in Paris.'"

NOT ALWAYS RECIPROCATED

"I can assure you I appreciate these sentiments a great deal but, at the same time, they prompt me to speak openly to this important gathering of British and American journalists and to say that there have been occasions when the spirit of understanding mentioned by Mr. Phillip has, I regret to say, not always been reciprocated by the press."

"All of you are familiar with my statement to the press of last June. In spite of my having adhered most faithfully to this policy, I am often at a loss to understand the extent of speculation and what sometimes appears to be a search for ulterior motives in regard to our doings."

"I naturally am not criticizing anyone present, but direct my remarks to the press as a whole. Some recent misstatements concerning the Duchess and myself have caused us considerable embarrassment and might well have led to dangerous consequences."

ON STUDY TOURS

"Our visit to Germany has been very interesting and we are looking forward now to our tour of America and to further opportunities of making a study of methods which have been adopted in leading countries of the world in dealing with housing and industrial conditions."

"In this connection I would like to make it perfectly clear that in any journey I have undertaken or may plan in the future, I do so as a completely independent observer without political considerations of any sort or kind and entirely on my own initiative."

"You all know the circumstances that led up to the events of last December and the forces which influenced my final decision. I am a very happily married man now, but my wife and I are neither content nor willing to lead a purely inactive life of leisure."

"We hope and feel that in due course the experience we gain from our travels will enable us, if given fair treatment, to make some contribution as private individuals to solving some of the vital problems that beset the world today."

The Duke mingled with the newspapermen after the luncheon, chatting informally.

The Duke's conversation ranged from war reminiscences to figures in the diplomatic service at Paris, such as Hon. Philippe Roy, the Canadian minister to France, about whom he talked to a Canadian newspaperman. Mr. Roy was General Commissioner for Canada in France from 1911 till 1928, when he became minister.

Charge False, Says Gardiner

Agriculture Minister Denies Bennett's Saskatchewan Relief Fund Statements

OTTAWA (CP)—Back from a visit to the prairies, Agriculture Minister Gardiner Tuesday replied to charges made by Conservative Leader Bennett to the effect Mr. Gardiner was using relief funds for the purpose of building a political machine in Saskatchewan.

His reply was a denial and an assertion the only time relief in Saskatchewan had been distributed by a politically-controlled organization was when Mr. Bennett was in office at Ottawa and the Anderson Conservative regime held power at Regina.

Mr. Bennett's charges were made in a speech at Brandon while Mr. Gardiner was at Regina attending a meeting of the Prairie Farmers Rehabilitation Committee. The minister arrived back in Ottawa Tuesday with agreements between the provinces and the Dominion covering drought rehabilitation for approval by the federal cabinet.

BENNETT AGAIN SPEAKS

REGINA (CP)—Another attack on Liberal administration of relief in Saskatchewan was launched by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett here Tuesday night when he addressed an audience of about 4,000.

Referring to Hon. J. G. Gardiner's statement in Ottawa Tuesday, Mr. Bennett said: "These people have appointed as their agents the councils of the rural municipalities." That's the basic unit of the Grit machine.

"It's not a Liberal government that gives you relief," Mr. Bennett declared. "It's the citizens of Canada in a spirit of sympathy and helpfulness."

At Brussels

SENATOR R. DANDURAND

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Raoul Dandurand will represent Canada at the Nine-power conference on the Sino-Japanese conflict meeting in Brussels on November 4. Prime Minister King, making the announcement Tuesday night, said the envoy would be assisted by Hume Wrong, Canadian resident delegate to the League of Nations at Geneva, as technical adviser, and Pierre Dupuy, of the Canadian Legation in Paris, as secretary.

Senator Dandurand is a minister without portfolio and government leader in the Upper House. He is a veteran of many League of Nations gatherings and headed Canada's delegation at the recent League Assembly. Delegates to the Nine-power conference will seek to work out a formula by which agreement might be reached between the Japanese and Chinese, bringing a halt to the conflict now raging in China.

LORDS' DEBATE LASTS ONE DAY

LONDON (CP)—The House of Lords Tuesday night adopted the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne after Labor had criticized the speech for its omission of references to what they regarded as important matters.

Lord Snell, Labor leader, complained the speech, read by the King at the opening of Parliament earlier in the day, did not mention food storage as a defence measure, the situation in Palestine or difficulties over the African protectorates.

Outlining the government's policy in connection with the Nine-Power Conference on Sino-Japanese affairs, Viscount Halifax, Lord President of the Council, said it was a policy designed to lead to the termination of the conflict "on a basis the moral opinion of the world would accept," on a basis for the development of China in which all parties could play a part.

The address was moved by the Duke of Norfolk and adopted without a division.

Preserve Liberties Says Premier King

People of Canada Urged To Strengthen Their Democratic System

OTTAWA (CP)—Unless people were careful to preserve their hard-won liberties, the question between dictatorship and democracy now being fought in Asia and Europe "might be fought out on this continent as well," Prime Minister King, warned an audience here Tuesday night.

Voicing a plea for maintenance of the "two old political parties," which, he said, had produced the greatest democratic institution the world had ever known, Mr. King warned against "subversive movements" active in Canada and looking toward disunity in the Dominion.

Mr. King addressed a gathering of Ottawa East Liberals at a dinner honoring J. Albert Pinard, member for that riding in the House of Commons. He praised the member for his good citizenship and in that connection observed that "in some parts of the Dominion the people seem to think their only citizenship is to the province, forgetting their larger responsibility of citizenship in the Dominion."

It was "amazing," the Prime Minister said, the contagion of various movements toward dictatorships. "I have even seen it here," he added, "and not so long ago. I have seen in our own Parliament a tendency toward dictatorship that has made me shudder, but we settled that in the last general election."

UNITY OF CANADA

In recent months, the Prime Minister said, the government had been largely occupied with matters involving the unity of Canada. "Subversive movements are afoot all over the world," he said. "Institutions in which we have always had faith are in a state of unrest and change. I believe that is all for the good if these movements can be directed into logical and right courses. But we have in this country many movements that make for disunity and tend to destroy the influence of this country among the nations of the world. If we should lose that influence it would be bad for Canada."

"We in Canada are concerned, whether we like it or not, with what happens in Asia and in Europe. And we know that there are wars on both those continents. Any mistake or hasty action might have irretrievable consequences."

Pleading for preservation of the old political alignment, Mr. King said: "If we destroy the old political parties and a dozen new ones take their place they would only be new political parties made up of the same individuals."

REFORM IN PARTY

"If the party is not moving fast enough, then get into it and make your views felt and help to make it what it should be. It is within a party the force for radical reform could and should be exerted. A political party such as ours is the greatest democracy that exists anywhere."

"There will always be the Conservative Party and the Liberal Party," the Prime Minister declared. "He who is not for us is against us," he quoted, but he urged that "those who are against us get into the Opposition and we will deal with our differences along dramatic lines."

Referring to Mr. Pinard's defeat in the reciprocity election of 1911, Mr. King declared that if Sir Wilfrid Laurier had succeeded at that time "there is no saying what influence the example of the relationship between Canada and United States might have been on the nations of the world. I think it would have been an influence for good on the whole world."

Hoover Urges Party Reunion

Ex-U.S. President Suggests Fusion of Opposition Groups Against Roosevelt

BOSTON (AP)—Declaring a coalition of anti-New Dealers was "devoutly to be wished for," Herbert Hoover Tuesday night called on the Republican Party first to draft a new declaration of principles that would fuse the foes of the Roosevelt administration.

The former President of the United States both reiterated his call for a national convention of Republican leaders prior to the 1938 Congressional elections, and asserted flatly he did not want any public office.

Speaking before a dinner of the Republican Club of Massachusetts, Mr. Hoover, whose address was broadcast, said:

"There is talk of fusion and coalition. Let me make but one remark on that. It is a result devoutly to be wished for. . . . If the Republican Party meets the needs and aspirations of the people who are opposed to the New Deal, they will fuse and coalesce, and not before."

ROOSEVELT SCOLD

Criticizing the Roosevelt regime, Mr. Hoover asserted New Dealers "seek to make us believe abuses cannot be cured without that creeping collectivism called planned economy."

"That gradual collectivism is creeping upon us should be evident by this time to every thinking American," he said. "The government manipulation of money and credit government restriction of production, government control of hours and wages, the entry of the government into competitive business on a large scale, government coercion of up-right citizens—these are but part of it."

Mr. Hoover asked why the members of the large economic middle class should be made "the forgotten men."

AT HOME 20 WEEKS WITH RHEUMATISM

Wife Feared Husband Would Never Work Again

When her husband had been at home 20 weeks with rheumatism in his back, this woman began to think he would never work again. At last, she said to him: Let's try Kruschen, and the change that took place was, in her own words, "like a miracle." Here is her letter:

"My husband is subject to rheumatism and suffered terribly with his back. Some time ago, I had him in the house 20 weeks with it. I really didn't think he would ever work again. We tried all the different kinds of salts you could mention, but none of them did him any good. Then I said, 'Let's try Kruschen.' Since then, we have proved Kruschen Salts to be worth its weight in gold. My husband is back at his job, thanks to Kruschen. The change it made is like a miracle."—(Mrs.) B.

Two of the salts in Kruschen are the most effectual solvents of uric acid crystals known to science. They swiftly dull the sharp edges of the painful crystals and convert them into a harmless solution, which is then expelled through the natural channels.

MUCH FOOD SENT TO DROUGHT AREA

TORONTO (CP)—At least 800 carloads of food worth more than $500,000 have been sent to aid drought-area sufferers in Saskatchewan through the efforts of Canadian churches, Rev. J. R. Mutchmore of Toronto said Tuesday. Large quantities of clothing also had been supplied, he added. Protestant and Roman Catholic churches this year decided to pool their efforts in obtaining food-stuffs for Saskatchewan's needy. Under direction of a joint committee headed by Rev. Canon W. W. Judd, Toronto, the churches sought contributions of food and clothing throughout Canada. "The response has been magnificent," Mr. Mutchmore said. Some 335 carloads of foodstuffs have been shipped from Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes, he said. Manitoba forwarded 183 cars, Alberta 90 and British Columbia more than 110.

PET PEACOCK DIES
 BELLINGHAM (AP)—Jack, pet peacock of Edith B. Carhart, former city librarian, died today after refusing to take food since his mistress became ill three weeks ago. The bird had been in the habit of eating from her hand and when she became unable to carry on this duty, it quit strutting, began to droop and ignored food offered by others.

U.B.C. Students Now Total 2,421

VANCOUVER (CP)—The University of British Columbia, normally accommodating 1,500 students, reports a final registration this year of 2,421, an increase of 156 over last year. Largest increase in any class is in the freshman year, where the registration is up 129 over the previous session. Registration by faculties is: Arts 1,442, applied science 450, agriculture 83, graduates 111, others 277.

KELOWNA BY-ELECTION

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—George Wilber Sutherland, merchant, Tuesday was elected to the Kelowna city council by a majority of 370 votes to 184 over his only other opponent, W. B. Hughes-Games. The election was called to fill the vacancy created by the death of Alderman A. Stanley Wade. Mr. Sutherland will be in office until the end of 1938.

NICKEL ROUND-UP

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—The pinch of war has hit the circulation of nickel coins, which Tuesday were ordered withdrawn. They will be replaced by paper bills. The coins will be converted into metal for the use of the war industries.

Soviet Academy Expels Member

MOSCOW (AP)—V. N. Beneshevich, Russian historian, was expelled Tuesday from his corresponding membership in the Soviet Academy of Science because one of his works was published by the Munich Academy of Science. The Soviet academy found that publication of the book "Synagogue of John Scholasticus" involved the author in "friendly correspondence with German Fascists" and was "a crime against the Soviet regime." Stalling

THERE SEEMS TO BE GOOD REASON for the view that Mussolini and Hitler have developed the art of the run-around to perfection.

The London correspondent of The New York Times says of the plan to withdraw troops from both sides in Spain: "The best pleased of all should be their insurgent ally, Generalissimo Franco, who will have plenty of time during the weeks of the coming discussions to develop his long-planned offensive against Republican Spain."

The Nonintervention Committee meeting in London has at last got as far as agreeing to the establishment of a commission to determine the number of foreign volunteers fighting on each side. But no one knows how long the commission will find it necessary to remain in Spain to tabulate the number of volunteers on both sides. Then, when the commission finally reports, there will be discussions on whether the tabulation was pro forma, de jure, de facto, or in accord with various international precedents. These discussions are bound to be protracted. If they ever come to an end without the negotiations blowing up, there may be "tokens" withdrawn from both sides. Mussolini, judging from his past conduct, will probably withdraw a few hundred wounded Italians as a "token" of good faith—and then send in another 10,000 fresh troops.

On the basis of this noble gesture he will demand belligerent rights for Franco so that German and Italian warships, purely "volunteers," of course, will have a legal right to stop, confiscate or sink all merchant ships bound for loyalist ports.

It all comes down to this that despite spasmodic protestations from Britain and France, the Italians and Germans will withdraw their men from Spain only when Franco wins—and possibly not then as they may decide on a joint occupation. For an outstanding fact that has emerged from the international dealings of the last couple of years is that Mussolini and Hitler are masters of the fine art of giving the other powers the run-around—and none has yet called their bluffing.

Dr. Schacht Quits

DR. HJALMAR SCHACHT, Germany's Minister of Economics and one of Europe's most eminent bankers, and financial experts, has resigned from the Nazi Cabinet and his resignation has been accepted by Hitler. His course of action may be attributed to the fact that the government, having had more than 18 months to study it, has not seen fit to adopt his four-point policy, and the fact that in the interval since he made it public his duties have been gradually usurped by the organization under the control of Colonel-General Hermann Goering.

Herr Schacht in March last year urged the following plan for Germany's economic improvement: A sharp reduction in the cost of government; drastic curtailment of party apparatus; reduction of the Gestapo (secret police) and its functions; stoppage of the armament race. Chancellor Hitler and his followers, of course, have pursued a policy diametrically opposed to the Schacht proposals. As president of the Reichsbank, the central bank which issues German currency and the government agency for the control of all German banking, Dr. Schacht naturally can see farther into the economic future than those who are running the country on a formula which makes Hitlerism at its best, or worst, look like a tame affair.

Dr. Schacht, like former Chancellor Hans Luther, who visited Victoria a few months ago after relinquishing the post of Germany's ambassador to the United States, is not a member of the Nazi organization. But his position in his own country, and the influence he normally wields in economic and commercial fields leave him practically free to say what he thinks. He has criticized his former cabinet colleagues and their national policies, without fear of personal "strafing" such as has been the fate of other prominent anti-Hitlerized German citizens. The effect of Dr. Schacht's voluntary removal from the inner circle of the government will be watched with interest.

Balancing The Books

NOT LONG AGO THERE WERE WILD rumors of a slaughter of Italians at Makal in Ethiopia. It would now appear that they were not true, or at least that they were exaggerated.

Yet even the rumor appears to have had some foundation, for Rome now officially announces that 102 Italian troops including 44 officers were killed in September by native attacks in the highlands of Ethiopia.

Official figures now give the Italian dead in Ethiopia as some 4,000 soldiers and add more than 1,400 laborers. Strong groups of "bandits," the official reports state, were "literally destroyed."

When, if ever, the expected raw materials and metals start moving from Ethiopia to Italy, there will be a little item on the debit side of the ledger: 5,400 Italian boys dead. How much cotton and gold and fruit will it take to make the ledger balance? That, one presumes, Mussolini himself will decide.

Australia's Elections

AUSTRALIA'S PARLIAMENTARY GENERAL elections have changed only slightly the distribution of political strength in the Lower House. Prime Minister Joseph Lyons, as head of the United Australia Party, gathered a following of 28 members, a reduction of three from the last Assembly. Dr. Earle Page, Deputy Premier, leader of the Country Party supporting the government in a Coalition, accounted for another 14, compared with 13 at dissolution, thus bringing the administration's strength up to 42 in a House of 74. The Laborites, commanding the largest single-party following, returned 29 supporters, the Victoria Country Party two, and the Social Crediters one, or a gain of four seats for the Opposition all told. It is not expected the official count when completed under the proportional representation plan will show any change from this tabulation.

In the battle for the 19 Senate seats it is quite a different story. As this is written there is considerable doubt whether the Coalition's control of the Upper Chamber will be maintained. The Senate is comprised of 36 seats, half of which are contested at each general election, and the government at present accounts for 17—there was one vacancy—needing two wins for its majority. Four of the six states apparently have gone decisively Labor, with South Australia and Queensland deadlocked between the two major parties, only a few votes at the present count separating them. In any event, therefore, the division of voting strength in the Upper Chamber is bound to be more than a promise of trouble for the government when vital issues are involved. Mr. Lyons has the reputation of being adept at compromise. He may be able to avoid a serious constitutional wrangle in the event of senatorial developments.

What can be said of the Australian results is that the people there have played safe by endorsing a middle-of-the-road government. Australia wants no change of policy in federal affairs.

John Hart Stays With B.C.

ALTHOUGH THERE WILL BE MANY ardent Liberals who will regret that Hon. John Hart has decided not to be a candidate at the federal by-election to fill the vacancy created by the death of Hon. S. F. Tolmie, the province gains by his decision to remain at his post as British Columbia's Minister of Finance.

To have sent him to Ottawa would have meant the loss to British Columbia of the most efficient finance minister the province has ever had. This opinion is not confined to members of his party, but is general throughout the province. It is emphatically expressed by Howard T. Mitchell in The Financial News in an article in which he says that not to slight Mr. Hart's conferees but merely as a matter of fact it should be understood in British Columbia that what confidence the investment world has in the worth of B.C. bonds as safe securities to buy and hold is based, to no small extent, upon its conviction that Hon. John Hart, as Minister of Finance, will keep the province on the right financial path.

The King administration at Ottawa is full of sound competent men of the John Hart type. In Victoria they are none too plentiful and B.C. can not afford to be without the man who serves the dual function of financial "front" and pillar of strength in the Pattullo government.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

DAY-OLD CHICKS

ALL NEW legislatures look the same, like chicks newly hatched. You can never tell, in their day-old state, what they will grow into, what strange feathers they may sprout and what they may lose in their little life of four short years.

This 19th Legislature, as we saw it from the galleries Tuesday, seemed precisely like the 18th. And yet, under the surface, behind the morning coats, the grey ties and the gay buttonholes, how different! How different this calm, serene Legislature of prosperous times from its predecessor which came in here four years ago, aflame with protest and heavy with gigantic solutions, which went out as softly as a sigh!

But who can tell, looking down on the new Legislature in its Sunday clothes and party manners, how it will behave in its working clothes, when the gold braid has disappeared and all its early illusions have been rubbed thin? Who can tell how this Legislature may ignite before it dies, in what condition it may leave the statute books and the treasury, how it may go out four years from now?

Nobody could tell anything about it in its opening day. Here was party intermingled with party, friend and enemy elbow to elbow to make room for distinguished visitors on the floor of the House. Here were Liberal members distinguishable only by the red roses in their lapels, C.C.F. men with red carnations (which are supposed to be less orthodox and certainly are less expensive). Conservatives with humble primroses, quite free, from the never-failing Esquimalt garden of good old Harry Pooley.

NEW FACES

IT WAS the new men in the crush that one tried to discover and calculate. Here was Dr. Telford, white-haired, smiling, amply-built, the mildest-looking man on the floor, patting the back of the truest blue Tory, Mr. Anson. What was behind his mild look? What assault on the government was he meditating, what cries that will ring through the province? That the government would like to know.

It would like to know, too, what lay behind the square, grey poker face of Dr. Patterson and his little band of Conservatives, as immaculate as the government, in strictly conventional cut-away coats. Between them, what would these two distinct oppositions try to do to the government, each striving to outstrip the other, each properly seeking to steal the show?

And what of the new back-bench members? Have we material here for future governments, unknown leaders, giants yet untested?

Here was Sam Guthrie, that good old-time Socialist, his red hair now grey, but his working class loyalty undimmed. Here were Louis Labourdais, that beloved native son of the central plateau, off the Cariboo Road, middle-aged now, but looking like a boy, and handsome young McGregor Macintosh, no longer a boy either, who left an arm in France, and Captain Bull, a bronzed outdoor man from the Okanagan who also carries a coat sleeve emptied in war service, and our own Bill Straith, and Mr. Eyras of Chilliwack, the keen-looking conservative who beat old Ed Barrow, and jolly, round-faced Mike Finland who inherited Esquimalt from Mr. Pooley, and Colin Cameron, lean and grim, from Comox, and other serious men of the C.C.F.

OLD-TIMERS

HERE WERE 19 new members who have much to learn and many disillusionments to suffer. Here were many an old-timer, too. Mr. Pattullo himself, who starts his 22nd session and who pauses with a fatherly, patriarchal smile to remind the House that in years of service he has now reached a majority, which the House should note; and white-plumed Mr. Hart and smiling Dr. MacDonald, who came in with the Premier in 1916, but moved out later.

Here was a new Attorney-General, Mr. Wismer, a grinning, happy Peter Pan of politics, who will never grow up, and behind him, in a higher sphere, his predecessor, Mr. Justice Sloan, now wearing black robes and judicial neckpiece and probably glad of it. Here were the formidable Winchs, fatherly, son-aturnine, handsome, dark, full of deep plans.

Here was a new Legislature reflecting, as accurately as a delicate instrument, the changed public psychology of the last four years, the better times, the lessening strains. Here was a government which has mellowed notably. And here was a touch of real neighborliness between parties, an opening-day sociability, when everyone agreed that the House should adjourn over Thursday so that Mr. Pattullo could accept a Doctor of Laws degree from the University of British Columbia.

AUTUMN WIND

The wind full of malice and evil intent A brandish bold on despoliation bent, Rose from a sleep in a savage mood; And mustering his powers, ruthless and crude.

Determined the trees of their gold to ravish, To ruin their beauty, so rich and lavish. All in his path in a mad dance he twirled. In wanton waste their bright leaves whirled. With a weird, wild symphony he filled the air. Mourningful as a dirge, pleading as a prayer. Filled with impenetrable gloom, Shrieking praise to a strange deity. Then his havoc wrought, his lust spent, Not pausing a moment to repent. Passed away as swiftly as he came, Leaving the branches in naked shame, Whereon lay glistening drops of rain, Like sad tears, drawn by fruitless pain. G. S.

RAILROADS COMING BACK

From Seattle Star

Railroad passenger traffic has been coming back in the last few years. Part of this is due to lower fares and part of it to the new equipment and faster schedules which the railroads have been adopting. But a good share must be attributed to the fact that travel by train is by far the safest form of travel in existence.

Economists Split Over Meaning Of Market Setback

Owen Scott in the United States News, Washington, D.C.

THERE are differences of opinion among the government analysts concerning the immediate future for business.

A glance at the chart shows the long depression from 1929 to 1933, then the sharp NRA and dollar-devaluation boom of 1933, followed by collapse, and then, starting in 1934, a steady pull upward that continued until December, 1936, to be followed by a leveling off in 1937, and now by some slight setback. The big question is: Where do we go from here?

Two answers are heard to that question, now that the situation has shaken out enough to give an opportunity for perspective. One answer, in general, is given by the economists brought in by the New Deal. Their emphasis is on purchasing power. The other answer, in general, is given by the old-line government economists. Their emphasis is on inventories, business buying and the potentialities of credit expansion. Both look at home building as the real key to the future.

NEW DEAL economists are inclined to be pessimistic about the immediate future; old-line economists to be more optimistic. Both come out at about the same place in the end, but on the basis of different timing. Each group has offered its view to the President, and what follows is an exposition of those views.

The more orthodox view: Business buying of goods slowed sharply during the summer. Industry of late has operated at a high rate, filling those orders. Backlogs now are well worked off and industrial activity is slowing. It will reach about 110 in October.

What will happen in November and December is anybody's guess. But certain important situations suggest a halt to the decline and the start of a new upturn. One of these situations is in the important textile industry. Activity here was one of the first to slow. New buying has waited on a settlement of cotton prices. Those prices are near stability and a pick-up is almost certain. Steel buying has held off for a testing of prices by automobile companies. That situation now points to more activity.

Buying has fallen much more sharply than production. It will have to start up soon, and with orders coming in, the business attitude quickly will change from pessimism to reasonable optimism. More than that, curtailment of relief and of government building is going to put more men on the employment market. This is all to the good, as it will relieve tight situations in building and bring some shakedown in costs. The decline in farm prices also is not unfavorable as city consumers should have more dollars to spend in buying other things if food and clothing costs are adjusted.

ALL IN all, the outlook is favorable and a quick return to the rate of industrial production to a level around and above 120 would only be normal, since 100 is regarded as normal for the period from 1923-25. To be remembered is the fact that credit is abundant and cheap and unfilled demands are huge, especially in housing. Rising rents will touch off home building expansion again in the spring.

Such is one view. The New Deal view is less optimistic. It follows:

The government, since 1934, had been pouring between $300,000,000 and $400,000,000 a month into the stream of purchasing power through deficit spending. In September, for the first time since 1931, the government actually withdrew money from that stream.

At the same time the government was cutting its contribution to business activity, business—by raising prices—narrowed the effect of spending by all consumers. The resulting situation is such that it could develop into a real new depression. Among the reasons are:

Farm income now is at a peak and next year will be lower. Automobile sales will meet resistance at the higher prices. The steel industry will delay price adjustments too long. Restrictions on installment selling will accentuate the trend toward a lessened physical volume of retail sales, which recently has carried that volume under 1936. All this will result in some new unemployment.

Furthermore, uncertainty and a check to rising wages will tend to soften the pressure for new housing and will bear down on rents.

PROSPECTS are that the index of industrial production will go down at least to 100 before turning up materially and—barring a revival of government help.

VICTORIANS PUZZLE HIM

To the Editor:—Victoria may be really and truly a bit of Old England. But as far as the people are concerned, I never met a more sullen people in any other Canadian city. If one asks to be directed to any place of interest, either the people do not know, do not wish to impart the information, or, if they condescend, do so in as few words as possible.

I find also that very few wish to hear or speak about other parts of Canada. So much for a national spirit and unity. And yet what strikes one as strange is, that if one refers to American cities, interest is at once aroused. Perchance the residents of this beautiful but distant island wish one day to be annexed to the United States. They do not seem to be proud of the past of the Dominion. I am sadly disappointed.

BERT SUTTON.

DISLIKES PROFESSIONALS

To the Editor:—I should like to say publicly what a pity it is that the Cathedral service should be altered to bring the choir in with a burst of song and take them out with another. It is no longer the dignified Cathedral service the dean had thought out so carefully, but like a little posy parish church where the choir always marches in singing at the tops of their voices trying to drown the organ, which, it is true, often needs drowning!

We were glad this morning to see our dear priest in charge. I want to tell him three-fourths of the congregation would like him to be their rector. I sympathize with him. But we do not wish to see the Cathedral in controversy again as it was when the Oxford Group was on.

MR. R. BEATTIE.

Parallel Thoughts

For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me. —Romans 7:11.

The worst effect of sin is within, and is manifest not in poverty, and pain, and bodily debilitation, but in the disordered faculties, the unworthy love, the low ideal, the brutalized and enslaved spirit. —E. H. Chapin.

spending — the upturn will be rather slow through 1938. Later, the acute housing shortage may blow off the lid.

Mr. Roosevelt, in the past, has accepted the advice of the New Deal economists and has started to spend on a huge scale whenever business lagged. The spending has been followed by revived business, but always government finances have gone from bad to worse. This has brought budget-balancing cries from business.

Now the President has passed out the word that business some time will have to demonstrate whether or not it can take over without the help of government deficit spending.

The result is that the White House attitude today is that business men will have their opportunity to demonstrate, in their pricing policies and in their expansion plans, whether they can take over recovery without another dose of federal help.

EVOLUTION OF MAN'S COLOR

To the Editor:—In spite of all these tribal theories of which we have heard so much, let us acknowledge that there is no such thing as racial distinction between people dating back to the beginning. We are told by the Scriptures that "God hath made of one blood all the people of the earth" (Acts 17:26). They are of Adam's blood, every one of them.

The difference in their complexion has to do with the climate only. The nearer they live to the tropics the darker will be the complexion. The nearer they live to the Arctic the lighter will be the complexion after a number of generations. The complexion of the people throughout the earth has gradually changed from generation to generation. The difference in complexion has nothing to do with their racial origins. HAROLD HESKIN.

ILL-ADVISED RADIO MOVE

To the Editor:—I have addressed the following open letter to Mrs. McClung:

I am informed you are a member of the Canadian Broadcasting Co. on behalf of the province of British Columbia. If this is correct, the general public would appreciate an explanation from you as to why the Province news and weather forecast has been abolished from CBR at 8.45 p.m. There is a very widespread feeling that abolishing this most important 15 minutes to British Columbians out of the total CBC broadcast is the most objectionable action the CBC has taken, or could take for the province of British Columbia. This 15 minutes has not, and cannot be utilized for any better purpose.

"MISUSE OF WORDS"

To the Editor:—The habit of misusing and abusing words has grown to such an extent in this age that people are generally becoming dazed by the remarks of so-called authorities. No better example of the abuse of a word can be obtained than by bringing to mind the use of the word communism as propounded by world-wide reactionaries.

May we be permitted to suggest to reactionaries that the basic principle of scientific socialism or communism is "the establishment of a system of society based upon the common ownership and democratic control of the means and instruments for producing and distributing wealth by and in the interest of society as a whole." Or put in even simpler words (for the benefit of those who may be dazed by the "misuse of words"), socialism or communism means the abolition of the basic cause of poverty, i.e., capitalism.

REMEMBERS BRAVE BELGIANS

To the Editor:—Minister Paul Spaak of Belgium, by his recent denial of the German non-aggression pact, proves once again Germany is a suspect. Strange that Belgium is the only country to have learned and remembered this self-evident and important fact.

The last manoeuvres of Belgium's small army proved that they again can lick the huge German army to a standstill as they did in 1914. When a handful of Belgians defeated the entire army's hord of barbarians, who dared violate the treaty protected terrain of this brave little country. Canada and the world at large must feel a sense of great security because of this fact.

Another world war could be averted not by putting on a boycott, but by simply not buying German, Italian or Japanese goods. Mothers, this will prevent your sons becoming cannon fodder. If you adopt this method of stopping a war which a crazy paperhanger Hitler and his monkey-on-a-stick, Mussolini, and his run-away Italian army are trying so hard to bring about.

WANTS FARMER FOR VICTORIA

To the Editor:—It is with sincere sorrow that one and all, and especially the farmers, have heard of the passing of Dr. Tolmie, who was an outstanding figure in agriculture, and one who will be greatly missed by all farmers.

May I be allowed to say that in all senses of the word, Dr. Tolmie was a farmer first and a politician last! What a pity that under our constitution we have to mix the two! The farmers have few enough representatives in the House as it is, and now they have lost their strongest supporter.

In my opinion, it would be a fine tribute to Dr. Tolmie's memory to nominate as candidate in the coming election, a farmer, and while he might not be so outstanding in his knowledge of agriculture as Dr. Tolmie was, he would help to carry on the work the doctor so loved. No doubt this suggestion will not meet with the approval of those lawyers and politicians who are out for nomination.

They may talk agriculture, but that is about all. Should not the candidate for the election be one who really knows farming and has the interests of agriculture at heart. Victorians, perpetuate Dr. Tolmie's memory and nominate a farmer. Dr. Tolmie would approve of it.

APPRECIATION FROM AFAR

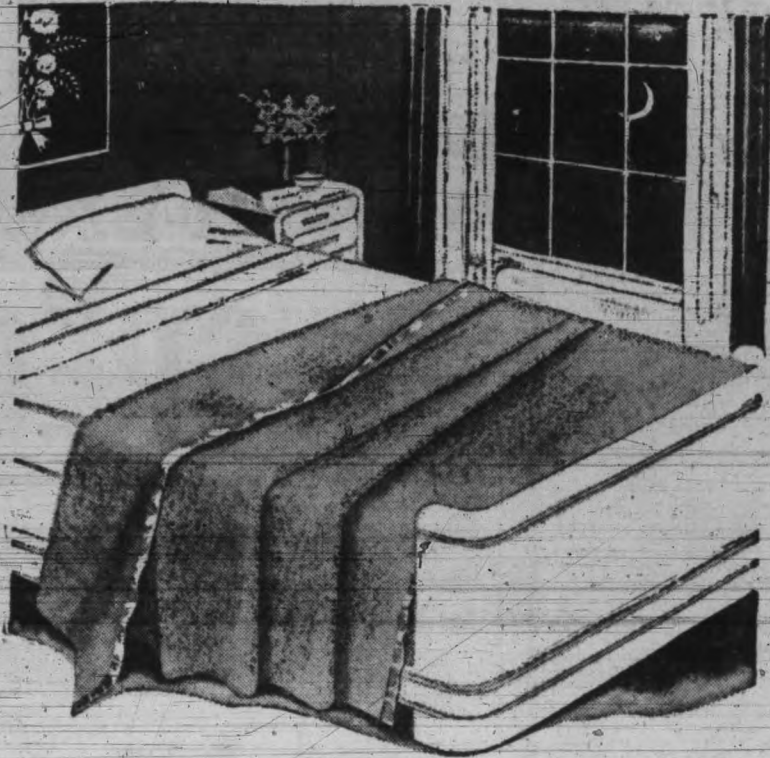

To the Editor:—I have just arrived in South Wales after a stay of nearly eight months in your beautiful city. I spent this time as a patient in the Jubilee Hospital and I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. W. E. Mitchell, Miss E. Phirney, Mrs. O. Wilson, house doctors, orderlies and the nurses in training for the wonderful care and attention I received from them.

I was put ashore from the Ss. Beconstreet with a fractured leg, a stranger in a strange land. I did not remain so long. The people of Victoria went out of their way to make me feel at home, and they did the job so well that I left Victoria with a heavy heart. One day I hope to return under pleasant circumstances and renew memories that are both beautiful and dear to me. I would also like to thank the members of the Welsh Society for their thoughtfulness and comradeship to one of their countrymen so far from home.

I would like the people I came in contact with in Victoria to know that I have not forgotten nor ever will forget their kindness to me. I would like to say may the city you are so justly proud of always prosper and God bless you all.

Y.W. Clubs In Full Swing

As the first month of fall group meetings at the Y.W.C.A. comes to a close, interesting plans are on foot throughout the clubs. Service work projects are materializing in the form of knitted baby clothes for the Children's Aid, colorful cushions for the clubrooms, financial help for one of the members of a vocational "Y" class, layettes and toys for the V.O.N. hampers.

With this objective in mind the Senior Business Club plans to sponsor the first week in November as "Coffee and Doughnut Week" throughout the "Y" groups, while the Y-Owenca Club will be selling candy at the Halloween party this week.

At the initial meeting of the Book, Travel and News Group, Miss Isabel Thomas gave a comprehensive review of "Heads and Tales," by Malvina Hoffman. This group has planned supper meetings for the first and third Friday of each month, and will welcome any new members interested in coming.

Weird and wonderful preparation is under way for the inter-club Halloween party to be held Thursday. Eavesdroppers have gleaned that a hall of horrors, witch fortune tellers, bingo and dancing is to be the order of the evening. Miss Elsie Peters is in charge of the evening's arrangements. Club members are to dress up.

The retiring council is looking forward to meeting the new one at the annual council meeting, November 4. It is to be a supper meeting dressed up to suit the occasion. The new council executive is to be inaugurated.

The Senior Business and the Y-Owenca Clubs heard Mr. Mun Hope review the probable causes of trouble in the Orient. Dr. I. Cowan spoke on sea otters to the Versatile Club, illustrated by a movie reel and a number of interesting slides. Miss Alberta Jenkins will be with this group for November 4. The members are looking forward to an interesting evening with a question box.

The Junior Business Club heard Mrs. Newell on "Good Grooming at Little Cost." Refreshments were served at the close of the talk. A night in Denmark, a theatre party and a know-your-city trip are planned for the near future. Every Tuesday night the Choral Club practices and the Hobbicraft groups go into action. Miss Minnie Beverage, assisted by six teachers, make these groups interesting and worthwhile.

Mr. E. Savannah led the Camera Club in discussion on the points to be considered in mounting and enlarging snaps. The group has a night on developing lined up for November 4, to be taken by Mr. Ewan. Members are asked to bring negatives to the meeting.

Halloween Party Of Lake Hill W.I.

The annual children's Halloween party, sponsored by the Lake Hill Women's Institute, will be held in the Community Hall on Friday, October 29. The grand march will take place at 5 p.m., after which prizes for the best fancy costumes will be awarded. A good programme has been arranged and lots of fun-assured for everyone. Donations of fruit, vegetables, jam, etc., can be left at the hall after 3 p.m., and all proceeds are in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium. The affair is open to all children under 14 years.

A meeting of the W.A. to the Children's Aid Society was held yesterday in the social hall of the Y.M.C.A. Mrs. D. McAle in the chair.

Mr. Ross Lort of Vancouver came over from the mainland today on a short visit to Vancouver Island.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Cabellu have returned to their home on Falkland Road after spending a few days in Vancouver with Mr. Cabellu's mother.

Mr. J. Sadkowsky is expected from Shanghai on the Empress of Asia on Monday next and will visit his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred H. Gibson Jr., Lee Avenue.

A delightful surprise party was given on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sinclair, 2848 Prior Street, in honor of Miss Margaret Roe. The evening was spent in games and contests, prizes being won by Mrs. E. Viggers, Mrs. R. Crech and Miss Margaret Roe, Messrs. A. Bruce, E. Viggers and W. Parker. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. Viggers, Mr. and Mrs. R. Crech, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sinclair, Misses Margaret Roe, Pearl Spedding, Anne Reimer, Agnes and Grace Stevenson, Messrs. Alec Bruce, Walter Parker, Ed. Smith and Richard Roe.

Honoring Miss Alyce Brown, degree staff captain of Colfax Rebeccah Lodge No. 1, I.O.O.F., the officers and members of the staff during her two-year term of office, arranged a delightful birthday tea in the dining-room at Hudson's Bay Co. on Saturday afternoon. The table was charmingly arranged with yellow chrysanthemums and having as the centerpiece a beautifully decorated birthday cake, the artistic handwork of Mrs. M. Bullen, P.N.G. Mrs. M. MacKenzie, N.G., and Mrs. E. Headdy, V.G., poured tea. Miss Brown was presented with a corsage bouquet of dainty yellow roses and a lovely rose-colored satin bed coverlet, and responded in a happy manner.

Over 60 friends and neighbors gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hatch, 3444 Whittier Avenue, recently to welcome them to Parkdale district. The evening was spent in renewing old acquaintances and meeting new ones. Rev. J. B. and Mrs. Rowell were among the guests. Mr. Rowell expressed the wishes of the gathering that Mr. and Mrs. Hatch may have a long and happy wedded life, others giving recitations and songs. Many useful gifts were given to Mr. and Mrs. Hatch. Refreshments were served by friends of the bride. The happy evening was brought to a close by all joining in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Miss Margaret Le Bus, a popular October bride-elect, was guest of honor at a surprise shower given by Mrs. H. Paterson and Miss C. Cheslyn. The many gifts were concealed in a prettily decorated box topped by an old-fashioned lady. Games were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. H. McDonald, Mrs. T. St. Amand, Mrs. A. McCormick Jr., Mrs. L. Clifford, Mrs. L. Kissinger, Mrs. F. Walsh, Mrs. L. Jones, Miss Tia Cairns and Miss June Paterson. A sit-down supper was served from prettily-decorated tables placed to form a horseshoe and centred with bronze chrysanthemums and maidenhair fern. The guests were Mesdames L. Jones, N. McKay, Wm. Roy, L. Vash, Mrs. H. McDonald, J. Parker, N. Taylor, V. Marsh, L. Kissinger, J. Christian, L. Clifford, T. St. Amand, A. McCormick Jr., Wm. Hillier, C. Keays, F. Walsh, G. Sinnott, R. Gieves, C. Cheslyn, H. Paterson, and the Misses M. Le Bus, E. Le Bus, A. Le Bus, T. Cairns, J. Griffin, G. Paterson and J. Paterson.

Mrs. Ivy Hansen, Mrs. Ross McIntosh and Miss Helen McIntosh entertained at a tea and miscellaneous shower recently at 1458 Begbie Street, in honor of Miss Rose McIntosh, whose marriage will take place early in November. Yellow and mauve chrysanthemums were used in decorating the reception-rooms. The gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a large clothes basket, prettily decorated with mauve and yellow crepe paper, with streamers suspended from the ceiling. The tea table, presided over by Mrs. McIntosh, mother of the bride-to-be, was covered with a lace cloth and a bouquet centerpiece of mixed chrysanthemums. Others assisting in serving were: Mrs. Ivy Hansen, Mrs. Ross McIntosh, the invited guests included: Mesdames E. Bursey, B. Moon, M. Willis, J. Dodd, W. Cayleg, G. Miller, C. Fry, Sr., C. Fry, Jr., F. Carter, J. McGillivray, W. Douglas, A. Rutherford, A. Nelson, W. Brown, O. Ellis, A. Webster, A. Chamberlain, C. Rose, M. Goudie (Lac la Hache), I. Jackson, M. Parib, C. Clarke, W. Lowry, P. Brilliant Ball At Government House

His Honor and Mrs. Hamber
Hosts to Many Guests
Last Night

With traditional brilliance, enhanced by the delightful hospitality at which His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber excel, the state dinner and ball attendant upon the formal opening of the Legislature drew a large throng of guests to Government House last night.

Invitations numbering nearly 1,000 were issued for the affair, and among the guests were a large coterie of mainland visitors.

DINNER GUESTS

At the dinner at which His Honor was host, the guests included: Premier Pattullo, the Bishop of Columbia, Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton; the Chief Justice of British Columbia, Hon. Archer Martin; Hon. Senator G. V. Barnett, K.C.; Hon. Senator R. F. Green; Hon. Senator J. W. de la Farris, K.C.; Hon. Mr. Justice Murphy, Capt. the Hon. Mr. Justice McPhillips, Hon. Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald, Hon. Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson, Hon. Mr. Justice G. M. Sloan, Mr. G. McGeer, M.P., K.C.; Mr. T. J. O'Neill, M.P.; Hon. G. S. Wismer, K.C.; Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Hon. John Hart, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Hon. K. C. Macdonald, Hon. Norman Whittaker, K.C.; Dr. Frank Patterson, M.P.P.; Commander C. T. Beard, R.C.N.; Brigadier A. L. Cuffie, R.C.A.F.; Capt. W. S. Oliver, Major M. W. Turner, Capt. W. H. Molson, Lieut. F. T. McIntosh, Lieut.-Commander F. R. W. Row and Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn.

Chrysanthemums in glorious profusion and in tones ranging from pale gold to bronze and tawny were massed in the spacious halls and corridors, enhanced the colorful setting in the drawing-room, where His Honor and Mrs. Hamber received their guests, graced the ballroom where the guests danced to the strains of Zala's ten-piece orchestra, and lent color to the morning room and library, as well as the sunroom, which were used as rendezvous between dances.

For the state dinner party in the dining-room, the table, which was later used for the buffet supper, was lovely with huge silver bowls of suntan snapdragons, allied with carnations in two shades of pink, and maidenhair fern, and pale rose tapers in silver candelabra.

To accommodate the large crowd at supper, the billiard room downstairs was also turned into a supper room, the table being centred with silver bowls of rose chrysanthemums and fern, with matching tapers in silver candelabra.

REGAL FIGURE

Mrs. Hamber was a regal figure in her gown of exquisite blue and silver lame, made on princess lines, with a shirred emplacement in the front of the décolletage, from which the fullness was carried over the shoulders to the low-cut back, the graceful skirt extending into a full peacock train of the lame. With it she wore matching slippers and a diamond tulle, diamond necklace and bracelets.

In attendance on His Honor and Mrs. Hamber were Brigadier Sutherland Brown, Squadron Leader A. F. McLeod, R.C.A.F. (Vancouver); Major M. W. Turner, Major Vincent McKenna, M.C.; Lieut.-Commander F. R. W. R. Row, R.C.N.; Capt. Van der Vliet, Mr. Hobart Molson, Mr. Hew Paterson, Col. R. G. Parkhurst, Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn and Capt. J. G. Cromack.

LOVELY GOWNS

Many beautiful gowns were in evidence, and the gold-braided navy blue and scarlet of the two services, together with the glitter of decorations, lent striking contrast to the many black gowns worn by the ladies. Mrs. John Hart chose black uncrushable velvet, gracefully draped, and with diamond clips as a relief. Mrs. K. C. Macdonald was in gold lame, with a girdle of turquoise blue stones, while Miss Eileen Macdonald wore a charming frock of fraise crepe, caught at the front of the décolletage with a brilliant and ruby buckle.

Mrs. G. M. Weir's handsome gown was of palest gold lame broche, with matching slippers.

Mrs. Norman Whittaker, wife of the new Speaker of the House, was in Coronation blue taffeta and velvet, with draped bodice of net, on which was posed leaves of velvet, while the full skirt was edged at the hem with net applied with the velvet leaves.

Mrs. Gordon Wismer's smart gown was of alikly black velvet, depending solely on the cleverness of its lines for chic, while her daughter, Miss Dorothy Wismer, chose lipstick red taffeta, made in bouffant style, with silver slippers.

Mrs. Sutherland Brown was in lustrous white satin. Mrs. J. W. Spencer was in a cleverly-draped gown of grey-beige, with French velvet flowers in fuchsia shade at the front of the corsage and at the back of the halter neck; Mrs. Walter C. Nichol wore a beautiful gown of marine blue and silver lame, with diamonds. Mrs. Norman Yarrow's imported gown was of gold lame, the full, bright

Daughters Of Pity Aid Ward

A fine record of material assistance to the children's ward of the Royal Jubilee Hospital was contained in the excellent reports presented at the annual meeting of the Daughters of Pity, held last night in the Nurses' Home of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The society at a cost of $200 sponsored the building of ten cubicles in the children's ward last winter, and among the special other gifts were a set of bathroom scales, two pictures, a dozen mugs, two dozen toothbrushes and the usual Christmas entertainment with a tree and individual gifts for each child. The secretary's report also covered the various ways and means employed for the raising of the requisite moneys.

The great objective for the coming year is a ward ambulance to convey children to the operating room. The usual vote of thanks was passed to various workers and friends.

The report of the treasurer, Miss A. E. Hill, showed receipts, including the bank balance of $288 at the beginning of the last fiscal year, totaling $548.32.

Miss M. Siddall was elected president to succeed Miss Kathleen Roberts, who retired from that office after four years. Others chosen were: Honorary president, Miss Lena Mitchell; vice-president, Miss C. Couves; secretary, Miss Irene Edwards; treasurer, Miss Alma Hill; executive committee, Miss K. Roberts, Miss E. Barraclough, Miss Peggy Thomson, Miss Alice Croft; refreshment committee, Miss E. Tait and Miss P. May.

The guest speaker was Miss E. L. Stibbarts, head dietitian at the hospital, who spoke on "Adequate Diet." After stressing the need of milk in a child's diet, she observed that in the hospital all children were given cod liver oil daily. Very few children objected to it; many liked it.

Entry of Nurses Investigated

NEW YORK—The National Association announced yesterday it had asked government agencies to investigate complaints that hospitals in New York State and elsewhere were bringing Canadian nurses to the United States in violation of immigration laws. Miss Virginia Mirabella, association president, made the charge in a letter to Labor Secretary Perkins and to the United States Immigration Service. "Canadian nurses," she said in the communication, "are known by us to have emigrated to this country under six-month tourist visas, which make it illegal for holders thereof to seek gainful employment in this country."

ARE YOU NERVOUS?

Do you feel so nervous that you want to be alone? Are there times when you are cross and irritable... times when you scold those who are dearest to you?

If your answer is an "yes," try LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. It will help Nature calm your quivering nerves and give you the strength and energy to face life with a smile. For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Pining from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "smiling through."

CHILDREN'S SLEEPERS

Juniors Plan Concert Series

Young Musical Art Group Opens Promising Season

An enjoyable concert and social evening was held last Friday evening by the Junior Musical Art Society at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron, Runnymede Avenue, who kindly extended their home for the occasion. The president, Miss Dorothy McKicking, who assisted the hostess in receiving the guests, welcomed the members and guests, and extended a cordial invitation to all who are interested in music to join the society.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Allon Peebles, president of the Victoria Musical Art Society, who gave a most interesting and educational talk on "Folk Tunes," illustrating different points with vocal selections.

Assisting also were the following members of the junior branch: Miss Lois Hamblet, who gave a pleasing rendition of Chopin's waltzes; Miss Elsie Friend played the Brahms Waltz and Miss Kathleen Brown gave Percy Grainger's "Country Garden."

Delicious refreshments were served from an artistically decorated table by the hostess, Mrs. Cameron, assisted by members of the junior branch.

Following is an outline of the programmes for the season: November 19—At the home of Mrs. J. O. Cameron, 1085 Moss Street. "The Sonata," lecture by Miss Gwendoline Harper, with quartette, piano and vocal numbers.

December 11—At the Truth Centre Hall, Fort Street, combined concert by all branches of the Musical Art Society.

January 21—At the home of Mrs. T. W. A. Gray, 1745 Rockland Avenue, "Bach and His Music," lecturer, Mrs. Hebdon Gillespie.

February 18—At the home of Mrs. Gordon Cameron, 2021 Runnymede Avenue. "Opera," lecturer Mrs. Eva Baird. Vocal selections.

March 18—At the home of Mrs. Allon Peebles, 843 Newport Avenue. "Modern British Composers," piano and vocal selections.

April 16—At the home of Mrs. S. Sutton, 1779 St. Ann Street. "Romantic Composers," lecturer, Mr. F. T. C. Wickett.

May—"Festival Evening," by members and festival winners in the junior group, date and place of meeting to be announced later.

The population of Reno, Nev., has been swelled by the addition of the wives of two of New York's most married millionaires, the third Mrs. Robert Guggenheim, left, and the fourth Mrs. Tommy Manville, better known as Marcelle Edwards, seen at right arriving at the divorce capital. Mrs. Guggenheim is reported to seek $5,000 weekly alimony, while the lovely Marcelle is said to have cut $200,000 into the Manville fortune.

Youth Plunges To His Death

NEW YORK (AP)—Witnessed by 200 horrified sightseers, a well-dressed youth plunged 85 stories to his death Tuesday from the observation platform of the Empire State Building—the world's highest building.

In his vest pocket police found a small piece of paper on which was written the name "Arthur Marullo" and an address in New York.

FOUR TO BE EXECUTED

MOSCOW (AP)—Four men were sentenced to death at Archangel Tuesday on charges of poisoning prize dairy cows and "other anti-Soviet wrecking" in the cattle-breeding industry.

To Relieve Bad Cough Quickly, Mix This at Home

Does the Work in a Hurry. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

Here's an old home remedy your mother used, and for real results, it is still a very dependable thing for relieving coughs. Try it once, and you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed—a child could do it. Now put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex into a 16 oz. bottle and add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really superior

The indoor fete sponsored by the women's auxiliary to the Sooke branch of the Canadian Legion was held in the old Sooke hall, Saturday evening. Bridge and dancing were the main features. Prizes for bridge were won by Mrs. J. P. Noury and J.

A. Law-Beattie, with Mrs. J. Waters and D. W. Ferguson receiving the consolations. In charge of stalls and games were: Mrs. J. B. Gillatt, Mrs. M. Lye, Mrs. E. J. Syrett, Mrs. R. Flitton, Mrs. C. Dixon, Mrs. H. Hewlett, Miss E. Hine, Mrs. D. W. Ferguson, Mrs. A. Duncan, Mrs. R. Strong and Mrs. P. W. Taylor. Mrs. F. C. Rumsby was general convener.

Under the auspices of the Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute a masquerade dance will be held in the new Sooke Community Hall on Friday evening, October 29.

The semi-monthly military 500 card party will be held in the Sooke Community Hall on Wednesday evening, commencing at 8.15.

Canada Urged To Aid Peace

NEW YORK (CP)—A call for Canada and Canadians to take their rightful place among the nations and do their share to promote peace and understanding in the world was issued Tuesday night by Sir Herbert Marler, the Dominion's minister to the United States.

In an address broadcast from a dinner given by the Canadian Club of New York in honor of himself and Lady Marler, Sir Herbert said these aims could be achieved by "preservation of our national unity, the development of our country, consultation with our sister members and intimate relations with the United States and the application of methods of conciliation with other nations."

He particularly emphasized that none of these aims was incompatible, the one with the other, or in the least "embarrassing to our natural growth and prestige."

PRO FOOTBALL ON UP GRADE

NEW YORK—This is to say that professional football is doing all right for itself. In the United States, this year the money is rolling in and the performers aren't bruised any more like they used to be. They're gentlemen, on and off the field.

Some 40,000 fans are expected out to the Polo Grounds next Sunday to watch a shooting match between Chicago Bears, undefeated leaders of the western division of the National League, and New York Giants, who lead the eastern sector.

The Bears are coming with a powerful, veteran team, headed by Bronko Nagurski, who used to murder them for Minnesota, and is the present holder of the world heavyweight wrestling championship. The Giants are a young team with a new "left formation" that has rival coaches moaning of nights.

Their tussle looks like it might settle the championship for the season. The pro game has changed mightily in recent years. Ned Irish, who turns out publicity for the Giants, watched it

Coalition Reports In Free State Denied

DUBLIN (CP)—William T. Cosgrave, former president of the Irish Free State and leader of the Fine Gael Party, in a speech Tuesday denied reports a coalition government might be formed with Premier Eamon de Valera's Fianna Fail Party.

Mr. Cosgrave also denied an agreement had been reached between the parties on the question of the selection of a president of the new constitution.

"I know nothing whatever of such negotiations or agreements," he declared.

Mr. de Valera recently indicated he had a man in mind for the office of president, the in-

Punch Is Winner Of Cesarewitch Stakes

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

SELECTION of Wally Brynjolfson as coach and a one-man selection committee for Victoria's McKeech Cup rugby squad is a step in the right direction. The placing of one man, who has proven his ability both on the field of play and in the role of coach, in complete charge will eliminate a number of difficulties. There will be no disagreement over the selection of the representative players, as is possible with two or three men on the selection committee.

In his role as coach Brynjolfson will be in close touch with the players all the time. He will know just how each individual is shaping up in practice and what players are best suited for the various positions. Brynjolfson possesses an ideal personality for such a position and is the type of chap, players will go out and give their best for. Well known in the local sport world, Wally is certain to receive the greatest co-operation from all who are associated with him in his new position.

Our friend the Old Man ambled up alongside the sports desk the other afternoon and popped up with the question: "What's wrong with English rugby in Victoria? I can remember not so long ago when matches on Saturday afternoon used to draw big crowds, while the turn-outs for McKeech Cup fixtures usually numbered around 1,500." The old gentleman was not the first to ask the writer that same question, so we started to scout around for a little information on the subject.

When the Old Man poked his nose around the door a few days later we called him over and offered the following explanation: In the first place, English rugby in this city has been deprived of six of its greatest performers in the space of two or three years. Gone are Lynn and Muzz Patrick, Doug Peden, Sid Gaunt, Paul Rowe and Ken Fleming. These chaps could gain a berth on any team in Canada and hold it. Players are not being developed every day to replace stars, and when six of them depart in a short time the game suffers.

In addition, a number of the veterans have retired and the young material being brought up as replacements has not blossomed forth in all its strength. We have also heard complaints from the fans that the type of rugby played here is not exciting enough. The teams should open up the game more and provide the spectators with more variety. Make the matches interesting and the cash customers will be in the stands in goodly numbers.

It is a pleasure to note the number of young coaches engaged in rugby this season. They are not young in playing experience, but boast tender years when it comes to telling the boys what to do and how to do it. Bert Buller of the Bays, Bill Wharton of the Garrison, George Warnock and Wally Brynjolfson of the Oak Bay Wanderers, Dan Dodsell and Roddy McInnes of the College and Henry Cockin of the Scottish are chaps whose association with the game as coaches should do lots to bring the sport out of the doldrums.

A lot of young players have made their appearance this season, and with coaches like the above named to look after them, this city should not want for first-class oval ball performers.

Outsiders Take Three Places In English Classic

Fet, Last Year's Victor, Second and Solar Bear Third; Punch 17 to 1 Shot

Heavy Going

NEWMARKET, Suffolk (CP)—T. Westhead's Punch, a colt by Lancgate out of St. Judy, today won the 99th running of the Cesarewitch Stakes.

Mrs. Sidney Freeman's Fet, the winner last year, was second and E. Robson's Solar Bear third in the field of 31. The four-year-old Punch won by a length, with two lengths separating Fet and Solar Bear.

The winner paid the long odds of 17 to 1. Fet started at 20 to 1 and Solar Bear at 100 to 8. The result, furnishing a stunning surprise because the three topmost public choices in the betting finished outside the money, set young fortunes into many hands through the workings of the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes.

A sensational last-minute betting rush had made Raites Vos Jeux a clear favorite, but Lady Nuttall's gelding finished out of the money, as did the other public choices, James V. Rank's Epigram and Sir Abe Bailey's Maranta.

CONDITIONS BAD The two and a quarter mile race was run under bad conditions. A heavy morning rain, followed by a gloomy mist, made visibility as poor as it could be, and the going became very soft after the early races on the day's card.

Several entries went to the post overweight. Maranta carried 106 pounds, Miss Windsor 105, Fox Star 100, Prudent Act 97, Zeros 96 and Grecco 98.

In the defeat of Fet and of Sir Alfred Butt's Near Relation, winner of the event in 1935, tradition was preserved. Never since the race was first run in 1839 has a horse won twice.

Fet, who won last year with much less weight than he had to carry today, is a grey gelding by Son-in-Law from Valda. Solar Bear is a five-year-old by the 1925 St. Leger winner, Solaro—the season's leading sire out of Lair.

His Majesty's Fairlead ran, but was little fancied and finished well out of the money. Despite the terrible conditions, a large crowd watched the big handicap and Fettes Vos Jeux seemed to be backed by everyone present. Only recently a long shot at 40 to 1, he was backed down to 6 to 1, but went the way of all Cesarewitch favorites save one since the Great War.

Epigram started second, favorite at 10 to 1 and Maranta third at 100 to 9.

Mr. Westhead, the winning owner, is one of the biggest bookmakers in the country and, like the trainer of Artist's Prince, winner of the Cambridgeshire early this month, he publicly announced before the race that he expected Punch to win. The horse was his first big winner.

Vernon Votes To Equip Ice Arena

VERNON—Vernon ratepayers yesterday voted favorably on a $25,000 by-law which will complete and equip with artificial ice a new sports arena here.

A year ago, an earlier $25,000 by-law was endorsed to provide for the construction of the arena to its present stage.

Wrestlers Meet In Return Bout

Patrick O'Shocker, the red-headed Irishman from St. Louis, and Abe Youist, from New York, were yesterday rematched to headline Saturday night's wrestling show at the Tillamook gym.

These two put up a grand show last week with the outcome in favor of the Irishman after he had beaten his opponent badly and sent Johnny Pears for a merry-go-round ride on the ropes.

Uplands Win Over Colwood

Scores 6 to 5 Victory In Women's Interclub Golf; Mrs. Jackson Plays

Featured by the return of Mrs. E. Jackson, British Columbia champion, to competitive play a team from the Uplands Golf Club turned back Colwood women on the latter's course 6 to 5 in an interclub match yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Jackson, playing in her first match since fracturing a finger at Winnipeg during the Canadian women's close championship, defeated Mrs. H. G. Mackenzie. Miss Mary Mackenzie-Grieve, holder of the city title, was victor over Mrs. Zoe Huse, while Mrs. James McIlraith, runner-up for the city crown, defeated Mrs. Cecil Eve.

Other winners for the Uplands were Mrs. A. M. Boyd, Mrs. C. Brown and Miss J. Robinson. Results, with the Uplands players first mentioned, follow: Mrs. E. Jackson 1, Mrs. H. G. Mackenzie 0; Mrs. Z. Huse 0; Mrs. J. McIlraith 1, Mrs. C. Eve 0.

Mrs. E. Cuppage 0, Mrs. Bennett 1; Mrs. R. Oliver 0, Mrs. A. C. Stickley 1; Mrs. S. D. Horsford 0, Mrs. Lawson 1; Mrs. A. M. Boyd 1, Mrs. Denham 0.

Miss J. Fletcher 0, Mrs. Pocock 1; Mrs. B. Clifford 0, Mrs. Richardson 1; Mrs. C. Brown 1, Mrs. Quincey 0; Miss J. Robinson 1, Mrs. Moulds 0.

Epigram started second, favorite at 10 to 1 and Maranta third at 100 to 9.

Hardly a Clean Sport

It was a rather dirty match, the one that Sandor Szabo of Hungary and Prince Bhu Pinder of India staged in San Francisco recently. They wrestled for 14 minutes in 12 tons of mud for the world "Hindu style championship" with Szabo, underneath in the above picture, emerging victorious.

TOP TENNIS SQUADS WIN

Score Triumphs in A Division Matches of Table Tennis League

Pioneer Fruit, Royal Arcanum A, Liberty Cafe, Wildcats and Mount Talmie scored victories in A division matches of the Victoria Table Tennis Association played last night in the club headquarters, basement of the Westholme Hotel.

Taking the singles matches five straight and dividing the doubles, Pioneer Fruit paddled their way to a 6 to 4 win over Melrose squad.

Another 6 to 4 triumph was registered by the Royal Arcanum A's, when they made a clean sweep of the doubles and broke even in the singles.

Liberty Cafe, leading the league, handed the Vancouver Island Coach Lines a 10 to 0 beating, while Wildcats pulled out with an 8 to 2 triumph over Meteors. Mount Douglas took the measure of Louis Nelson's Garage, 7 to 3, after an interesting exchange.

Scores follow:

Pioneer Fruit—H. Lowe 1, Lou Por 2, G. Lowe 1, D. Sam 1, G. Lowe and H. Lowe 1, and D. Sam and Lou Por 0; Melrose—W. Whittemore 6, W. Bowden 1, T. Chaitell 2, G. Perkins 0, W. Bowden and Whittemore 0, and T. Chaitell and G. Perkins 1.

Royal Arcanum A—Browne-Cave 2, Crombie 1, McClure 1, Park, Browne-Cave and Crombie 1, and McClure and Park 1; Musketeers—Martin 6, Minnie 1, Holstein 2, Jackson 1, Martin and Minnie 0, and Holstein and Jackson 0.

Liberty Cafe—Greenwood 2, Tully 2, Jarvis 2, Lewis 2, Tully and Lewis 2, and Jarvis and Greenwood 1; Vancouver Island Coach Lines—Kay 6, McIntyre 0, Huber 6, Pedray 0, Kay and McIntyre 0, and Pedray and Huber 0.

Wildcats—L. Cox 2, F. Cox 1, L. Butler 1, B. Corcoran 1, L. and F. Cox 1, and B. Corcoran and L. Butler 1; Meteors—Henry 1, Tullish 0, Martin 0, Taylor 1, Henry and Tullish 0, and Martin and Taylor 0.

Mount Douglas—Renfrew 1, Tyne 2, Luckey 2, Taylor 2, Renfrew and Tyne 0, and Luckey and Taylor 0; Louis Nelson's Garage—Cotton 1, Halker 0, Craven 0, Greenwood 0, Cotton and Greenwood 1, and Craven and Halker 0.

SOCGER GAMES Intermediate Football League matches carded for Saturday follow:

Navy vs. Cooperage, Admirals Road; referee, E. Borde. Kick-offs at 2.30.

Ice Gossip

Today's short, short (unsolved) mystery story, which ace N.H.L. forward is manager Red Dutton of New York Americans after? Dutton admits negotiations are underway, but refuses to divulge with which team or for what player.

Quite a boost that was from Art Ross for Johnny Shewchuk, who played last year with Copper Cliff juniors. Says Ross, coach of Boston Bruins: "He's the best rookie defenceman we've picked up since Eddie Shore came to Boston as a youngster 10 years ago."

Montreal Maroons needn't worry about amateur Maurice Croghan being in shape. The husky Montreal-born defenceman, who just reported at the Lake Placid, N.Y., training camp yesterday, doesn't smoke or touch liquor, and always seems to it he's in good physical condition.

Toronto Maple Leafs pack up their troubles, and everything else, in their old kit-bags after today's practice and start out on a five-game tour with Syracuse Stars, a Leaf farm team. First game is at Galt, Ont., tomorrow.

"You can hardly blame Cecil Hart, coach of Montreal Canadiens, for being happy today. The roster of his team is complete now that burly Babe Siebert, all-star N.H.L. defenceman last year, has come to terms. Siebert ended his holdout siege yesterday after a talk with team President Ernest Savard.

Leafs and Maroons have just reversed the order in their player experiments. The Toronto team has moved Bob Davidson back from a forward spot and manager Con Smythe thinks the youngster will fill the shoes of Hap Day, sold to Amerks. Maroons are attempting to make a utility man of defenceman Roger Jenkins and have been playing the veteran at forward part of the time in training.

Looks like the railbirds at workouts of New York Rangers had it doped out right in predicting stardom for Bobby Kirk and his front-line teammates, Bryan Hextall and Clint Smith. Recruited from Philadelphia Ramblers at a "line," the trio burned up the ice in training. Then last night Bobby Kirk scored the winner in Rangers' 6 to 5 victory in an exhibition game against Amerks.

Here and there: Pete Langelie, the boy who played with the Memorial Cup-winning Winnipeg Monarchs last year, shapes up as one of the best stick-handlers in the Toronto Leafs camp. . . . Detroit's Jack Adams sent amateurs Sid Abel, centre, and Pete Ettinger, defenc, back to their Saskatoon homes, but kept strings on them.

Schmeling Wants To Meet Thomas

NEW YORK—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight contender, picked Harry Thomas of Chicago as the most acceptable of five opponents suggested to meet him in a bout at Madison Square Garden in December, his American representative, Joe Jacobs, announced yesterday.

Joe Jacobs and Promoter Mike Jacobs cabled the names of five suggested opponents to Schmeling yesterday and suggested December 17 as a good date for the fight. Schmeling replied yesterday, picking Thomas, and suggesting that December 13 would be a better date, as December 17 was "too near Christmas."

BRITISH SPORTSMAN DIES LONDON—Nicholas Lane Jackson, grand old man of British sport, died yesterday. He would have been 87 years old on November 1.

Known to the sporting world as "Pa," Jackson founded the famous "Corinthian" Amateur Football Club and the London Football Association, and assisted in formation of the Lawn Tennis Association Council, on which he served for many years. He was vice-president of the Football Association.

Flying Frenchmen To Use Old Stars

Hoopsters Will Battle Tonight

Featured by the appearance of Hoyle-Brown and Liberty Cafe in the main tilt, a half dozen teams will be seen in action this evening on the Victoria and District Basketball League's three-game card at the High School gym.

The programme follows: 7.15—Unitys vs. Adverts, women's squads. 8.15—Kingham-Gillespie vs. St. Louis College Alumni, intermediate A boys. 9.15—Hoyle-Brown vs. Liberty Cafe, senior B men.

SOCCER TEAMS ARE SELECTED

Wales and Scotland Name Squads for International Match October 30

CARDIFF, Wales—Undefeated in last year's three matches, Wales, champions of the international soccer tournament, meet Scotland here on October 30.

The 1937 campaign opened October 23, when a young English team overwhelmed Ireland, 5 to 1, at Belfast.

Seasoned players who had gained top rating in league matches will line up for this match. Five stars who have kept Glasgow Rangers in the forefront of Scottish League warfare in recent years are included in the North of the Tweed eleven, while Hearts and Aston Villa each have two.

Wales is retaining seven players from the team that edged out a 2 to 1 victory over Scotland last year.

The teams: Wales—Goal, Gray (Chester); backs, Turner (Charlton Athletic), Hughes (Birmingham); halfbacks, Murphy (West Bromwich Albion), Hanford (Sheffield Wednesday), Richards (Birmingham); forwards, Phillips (Aston Villa), Leslie-Jones (Coventry City), Perry (Doncaster Rovers), Bryn Jones (Wolverhampton Wanderers), and Morris (Birmingham).

Scotland—Goal, Dawson (Rangers); backs, Anderson (Hearts), Cumming (Aston Villa); halfbacks, Maesie (Aston Villa), Simpson, Brown (Rangers); forwards, Main (Rangers), Walker (Hearts), Frank O'Donnell (Preston North End), McPhail (Rangers), and Duncan (Derby County).

B.C. Bowlers To Play At Games

VANCOUVER—British Columbia lawn bowlers will send a rink to the Empire Games at Sydney, Australia, it was announced in annual meeting.

Bob Gray, past president of the British Columbia Association will skip the rink with A. S. Reid, John Fleming and Dick Adam as other members of the team.

Up front, the Canuck master mind has been working young Paul Haynes, Toe Blake and Johnny Gagnon, the veteran "black cat," on his No. 1 line. Up to now, Joliat's been on the ice only a few minutes, but when he gets in trim—if he can still hold the pace after 14 years under the big top—he'll slip into

Canadiens Depending on Stalwarts of Last Year For Coming Hockey Season

MONTREAL—Last year's model "is good enough for Montreal Canadiens. It was good enough last winter to roll into the National Hockey League's Canadian leadership, and the club isn't going to do too much tinkering with a machine of that horsepower.

Some of the parts may be getting old, and maybe there's a creak here and there in an aging joint as the new season adds one more to the weight of years, but there's youth mixed in to balance that, and driver Cecil Hart vows the combination should be good, at least for a playoff berth when they finally hit the stretch.

Whatever Canadiens do will be done by the standbys of last year, most likely, for there's be few new cogs in the habitant engine when Hart shoots, it out early next month for the season's opening. Not an amateur has made the grade as a regular, and those minor leaguers coming up are the ones he shoved in from time to time last year to fill in gaps in the ranks.

Every regular of last year has been signed up, except for Howie Morenz, the great centre wizard, who died at the height of his comeback, and defenceman Bill Miller, who retired voluntarily. A brace of holdouts held things up for a while, but they were finally brought into camp.

Babe Siebert, the rugged mainstay of the defence last year, was the last to come in. He finally signed up yesterday after sticking out for weeks for a raise. Tiny Aurel Jolia, the will-o'-the-wisp, left winger, capitulated three days before.

COUNT ON SIEBERT

The Bumping Babe, considered near the end of the trial before the start of last season, staged a surprising comeback last winter; and this year Hart is looking to the Big Bertha of the rearguard for more wear and tear on the opposition forwards. It's on Siebert's defence colleagues, too, that the manager is planning to do most of his player juggling.

Red Goupille of Canadiens' Internationale-American farm at New Haven is going to be moved into Miller's defence spot. But instead of leaving Siebert and Walter Buswell together all year, and teaming Goupille and Bill McKenzie for keeps, he's going to have a more flexible set-up. The 200-pound redhead and McKenzie will be switched back and forth in combinations with the Babe and Buswell, thus giving the backline four pairs.

"I think in the long run that system will work out best," Hart said today.

Up front, the Canuck master mind has been working young Paul Haynes, Toe Blake and Johnny Gagnon, the veteran "black cat," on his No. 1 line. Up to now, Joliat's been on the ice only a few minutes, but when he gets in trim—if he can still hold the pace after 14 years under the big top—he'll slip into

Speech and Song Students Heard

On Monday evening last the studio of the Victoria School of Expression was filled to capacity for the annual studio demonstration of speech and song.

A programme of musical, dramatic and humorous items was given, after which refreshments were served. The guest of honor was Dr. H. B. King, technical adviser to the Department of Education.

At the conclusion of the programme, Dr. King in a very happy and eloquent little speech said he had listened to a most cultural, educative and enjoyable programme. Artistic work of so high a standard was an asset to any community, he said.

During the evening, successes for the year were announced by Capt. Ord, and parents, students and friends were thanked for their co-operation in making the evening such a success.

Those taking part represented each section, junior, intermediate and senior, and all gave items of very high artistic standard, each one receiving enthusiastic applause. The intermediates gave a most original and unique number heard for the first time in Victoria.

It was announced that William McPhail had not only gained the

A.T.C.L. speech diploma, but in the same year had passed top of the first-year students at Victoria College.

Toronto Argos and Ottawa Rough Riders Exchange
Protests Over Injuries

OTTAWA—Charges and counter-charges flew thick and fast yesterday as Ottawa Rough Riders and Toronto Argonauts carried on a long-range review of last Saturday's game in Toronto. Argonauts, through President Tommy Allison, charged Bunny Wadsworth, 260-pound middle, with deliberate roughness in the breaking of Harry Sonshine's jaw.

Ottawa Rough Riders countered with the charge Argonauts ganged Elwood McFall, a young outside just up from junior ranks and broke his leg with a deliberate kick.

Almost the only definite result of the wordy duel was a grand build-up for Saturday's return game here with officials of the Rough Riders considering whether they should build additional bleachers to accommodate the crowd.

Notes of the Legislature

To-morrow

Debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne starts; to be moved by Alderman Fred Crone, Liberal, Vancouver Centre, and seconded by Capt. C. R. Bull, Liberal, South Okanagan. House meets at 2.30.

With the color and glamour of the opening ceremonies over, the Legislative Chamber was darkened today. The house was having a day's recess while the Premier and several of the members attended the University of B.C. congregation in Vancouver.

The new assembly has three members of the Liberal "old guard" who swept the province in 1918. When he mentioned this in the House yesterday Premier Pattullo probably knew he was getting to rights on the point newspapermen who had mentioned him as the only one left of the 1918 Liberals. The others are Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, and Hon. K. C. Macdonald, Minister of Agriculture. The Premier's record of service is unique in that it has been continuous since that time. The other ministers were absent from the House for some years.

Provincial law-making costs the public of British Columbia slightly more than $100,000 a year. The expenditures in 1936 were $108,043.

About 30 cents of every tax dollar collected by the provincial government last year went for repayment of debt. The treasury collected $28,100,000 and from this paid out $8,556,440 in interest and debt redemption.

It costs a lot more to elect a member from a city riding than from a country seat. Last year's by-election in Vancouver-Burrard cost $12,215, but the Omineca by-election bill was but $2,790.

Expenditures on the government's oil, petroleum and coal fuel commission up to last March 31, had reached a total of $95,651, spread over three years.

The old age pension bill is mounting in British Columbia. Last year $2,441,320 was paid to pensioners in British Columbia, up $200,000 from the previous year. Net cost to the province was $555,376, the rest being paid by the Dominion Government and other provinces.

QUICK RELIEF From Itching Smarting Burning ECZEMA

Mrs. — writes: "I had Eczema break out on my leg and tried almost everything, but it did no good. So at last I tried 'Mecca' and got relief at once from the smarting, burning and itching. 'Mecca' is sure a wonderful ointment. I cannot speak too highly of it."

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Victoria Women's Institute will hold a bridge tea on Friday at 2.30 in the headquarters, under the convenship of Mrs. H. D. Watson.

City police today investigated a report early this morning that the James Bay Garage, 515 St. John Street, had been entered by a rear door. There was nothing reported missing.

The Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks committee was scheduled to meet at the City Hall today to discuss improvement of Mount Douglas Park. A meeting of the city parks committee was called immediately after the joint session.

Delinquent taxpayers of the city were advised by George A. Okell, city assessor-collector, today to meet their 1935 levies before Monday if they wished to keep their holdings off the tax sale list. The tax sale is scheduled to open on Monday.

The annual meeting of the Victoria section of the British Columbia Historical Association will be held in the Provincial Library at 8.15 on Thursday evening. Dr. T. A. Rickard will deliver his presidential address, which is entitled "Early Gold Discoveries in British Columbia."

Betty May Cameron, president of the Victoria High School Students' Association, at the morning assembly yesterday explained the work of the association and asked students to secure membership cards. The association handles dramatics, athletics, Camosun and school clubs.

Three appeals were scheduled to go before the zoning board of appeal at its session this afternoon. One is made by the Imperial Oil Limited, which desires permission to construct an addition to the station at Broughton and Douglas Street and another is made by Mrs. C. O. Ockenden, who seeks approval for the construction of a garage at 26 Dallas Avenue.

Don Mackinnon addressed the meeting of the Victoria and District British-Israel Association on "The Redemption of Israel." Showing the difference between "redemption" and "salvation," he demonstrated how Israel had been redeemed back to God and Covenant blessings from whom she had been divorced because of her backsliding, through Christ's sacrifice, and that salvation to everyone came through Him.

Percival McPhee pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to a charge of forging an agreement for the hire of a car and was remanded until tomorrow morning for sentence. After electing summary trial before Magistrate Henry Hall, McPhee admitted the offence. Sgt. A. H. Bishop testified the accused had taken a driver's license from W. R. Farmer, without Farmer's knowledge, and had used it to hire a car. In signing the agreement for hire he had forged Farmer's name. After getting the car he had turned it over to another youth for his use.

From Berne, Switzerland, comes the news that the distinguished uncle of a local resident, Mme. De Gallier de Roeder of "La Bruyère," Ten Mile Point, has celebrated his 90th birthday. Baron de Roeder, formerly grand chamberlain of the court of the Emperor William II and son of Gen. de Roeder who for a long time was minister plenipotentiary of Germany in Switzerland, is now living in Berne. At the outbreak of the Great War the de Roeder family found itself in the uncomfortable position of having closely related members of the family on both sides. The baron, whose only daughter had married a British naval commander, was forced to give up his position at the court and retire to Switzerland.

Suggest Policy For Contracts

A definite policy for the city in regard to contracts let for construction and allied jobs is suggested by the Victoria Builders' Exchange Limited, in a letter received at the City Hall today. The organization proposed:

"That tenders for city work should be accepted only from contractors or sub-contractors who hold a license in the city of Victoria, and that each tenderer post a 10 per cent deposit cheque with his tender, the cheque to be forfeited to the city should the tenderer (in the event of his tender being accepted) refuse to carry out the work at the price quoted, and that these conditions should be stated in all advertisements calling for tenders on city work."

City M.P.P.'s Back Community Chest

Dr. H. M. Cassidy to Speak Over Radio on Social Welfare Tonight

Victoria members of the Provincial Legislature gave their endorsements to the Community Chest scheme today. The campaign proper to raise $72,500 for 23 charities in the greater Victoria area does not begin till Monday, though several divisions are already canvassing.

Over CFCT at 8.30 this evening, Dr. Harry M. Cassidy, provincial director of social welfare, will broadcast an interesting address on the social problems of Victoria from the angle of his subject "Prevention Is Better Than Cure." It is pointed out that most of the welfare organizations embraced by the Community Chest are concerned with prevention of indigence, disease and relief, which cause such a heavy burden on the taxpayer.

From Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, the Community Chest received this statement: "The Community Chest long has been needed in this city. It concentrates into one campaign the appeals of many worthy causes and thereby assures the various projects of a more certain source of funds. Embracing as it does 23 different organizations, the scope of the Community Chest provides an outlet for subscribers to charity that would not be possible through any other medium."

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., expressed his whole-hearted approval and support of the Community Chest. "It has been my good fortune," he said, "to be closely associated with many of Victoria's various community undertakings in the past, especially in the early period of the recent depression, and I am convinced that the proper method of handling the problem is the one now being undertaken. The joint efforts of our citizens in the campaign for funds in itself creates confidence in the minds of the people and the resulting goodwill that will accrue to our less fortunate friends will be apparent."

Dr. J. Douglas Hunter, M.P.P., declared: "The Community Chest Campaign which is now being launched in this city is a project which I feel should receive the undivided support of our citizens generally, and I think that the many men and women who have given and are giving most freely and willingly of their services to further this project, without any hope or even expectation of reward, deserve our very sincere thanks."

W. T. Straith, M.P.P., felt that the Community Chest was long overdue in the city. "Undoubtedly the grouping of so many charitable organizations under one head will be a great saving of money contributed for charitable purposes," he said, "and the citizens of Victoria will be saved the annoyance of perpetual requests for charitable donations. They will now be able to give by one lump sum and feel that their duty is done for the 12 ensuing months."

VISITS VANCOUVER

Frank Paulding, campaign manager of the Community Chest, was back in the campaign office on the ground floor of the Union Building after a visit to the Vancouver Welfare Federation, which is equivalent to the Community Chest in the terminal city.

He was impressed by the co-operation of the business men with the federation. There were very few criticisms of the Community Chest idea in Vancouver, he said.

Mr. Paulding, who spoke over the radio while there, reported that Vancouver campaign had made the "hump." Over $200,000 had been already collected, and though he doubted if their mark of $350,000 would be reached, the contributions were coming in better than last year.

Friday is going to be a busy day for workers in the Community Chest.

In the afternoon there will be the final tea for women workers at the home of Mrs. W. P. D. Pemberton. In the evening Mrs. A. Z. DeLong, prominent Vancouver social worker, will address a meeting in the Y.W.C.A. under the auspices of the Council of Social Welfare.

F. E. Winslow, chairman of the Community Chest board, will speak over CFCT at 8.30 Friday evening.

CHEST NEAR $10,000 MARK

Subscriptions Pour in Though Drive Does Not Begin Till Monday

Nearly $10,000 has been received by the Community Chest in advance subscriptions. The campaign proper for $72,500 from Greater Victoria does not get under way till Monday.

An anonymous contribution of $500 was the first received. Only a temporary resident of the city, the donor was so much in favor of the Community Chest scheme that he gave the board a cheque three weeks ago, before leaving Victoria.

Among the larger subscriptions received by J. W. Ruggles, chairman of a division, which is looking after "special gifts," are the following:

City Starting Bridge Repairs

Repairs to Johnson Street Bridge, on which certain work is required to avoid costly projects in the future, will be continued by the city tonight, G. M. Irwin, city engineer, stated today. The bridge will be closed for a short time after 1 a.m.

In addition to protecting the bases of the steel columns of the bridge against rust, the city gang will continue with improvement of the counterbalance to which additional weights have been added to offset the increased weight of the bridge made heavier through resurfacing. The work is required to avoid serious strain on the brakes when the span is being lowered into position. Steel plates will be made in the counterweights, to make access to them easier when adjustments are required.

Auto Official Visits Victoria

Executive of Rootes Ltd. Meets Local Reps; Hillman Minx "10" Popular

One of England's well-known automobile executives, G. A. W. Laird, export service manager for Rootes Limited, will be a passenger on the motorship Aorangi, sailing for the Antipodes tonight. Rootes Limited is the famous British automobile firm back of such well-known names in the motoring world as Humber, Hillman, Sunbeam, Talbot, Commer and Karrier.

Mr. Laird is visiting Victoria in the course of a world tour of inspection of all export interests of Rootes Limited. While here he conferred with Jameson Motors Limited, British Columbia distributors for the Hillman Minx "10," the splendid light car which has won favor in this province recently.

Mr. Laird will inspect his firm's assembly plants in New Zealand and Australia and then will proceed to South Africa before returning to England. He is enthusiastic about the future of the new 1938 Hillman Minx "10," which has recently been placed on the market here.

"Our only trouble," he said, "is to manufacture them fast enough to meet the demand in the countries to which we export."

"Shortly," Mr. Laird continued, "Jameson Motors will introduce several larger Humber-Hillman models which represent the last word in British fine car construction. I am confident that when these new models arrive, British Columbians will be just as enthusiastic over them as was the public of Great Britain a few weeks ago. Although these are new models their design is predicated on the knowledge gained over many years of experience in all countries of the world."

early today. No one was injured. Twelve firms suffered fire, smoke or water damage. The buildings all were of wooden construction.

OBITUARY

FREDERICK WILLIAM WARNER

In the presence of relatives and friends, funeral services for Frederick William Warner took place yesterday afternoon. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick officiated. Mrs. S. M. Morton rendered the solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and the congregational hymn was "Abide With Me." A number of beautiful floral offerings covered and surrounded the casket. G. H. Maynard, W. CHARLES T. M. FOX

Many sorrowing friends were present at the funeral of Charles T. M. Fox, yesterday afternoon. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiating. The hymns, "Sunset and Evening Star" and "Sun of My Soul" were sung. The casket and hearse were banked with beautiful flowers. The following acted as pallbearers: J. C. Harris, W. N. Lenfesty, D. D. McTavish, J. D. Kissinger, George Roe and R. Mulcahy. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

E. LILLIE BLAKELAW

Funeral services for Miss Emma Lillie Blakelaw of 637 Niagara Street, who passed away at the family residence on Tuesday will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Sands Mortuary. Rev. T. Keyworth will officiate and the remains will be laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Start Work On Stations

Home Oil Distributors today took out a $7,200 permit at the city building inspector's department for the first of a series of service station improvements contemplated throughout various parts of the city.

Luney Bros. Ltd. will do the work on the structure which will replace a standing station at 1620 Oak Bay Avenue. W. F. Gardner is listed as architect.

Yesterday a $1,250 permit was issued for the addition of an extra bedroom and bathroom to premises at 3104 Albany Road, listed in the name of J. C. Roach.

New Equipment For Movie Firm

Developing Machine Goes Through Tests At Willows

Latest addition to the equipment of Central Films Limited, an impressive piece of machinery in the shape of a cabinet 24 feet long and some eight feet high, is purring through its tests in a building at the Willows fair grounds today.

Built in Victoria from imported parts, the machine is a film developer capable of handling 1,200 feet of negative an hour, and almost three times as much positive film.

It consists of developer, water, fixer and washing tanks through which the film winds in a multitude of loops, and a long drying cabinet where warm air is blown over the coils of celluloid.

Also under construction at the Willows is a printing machine capable of turning out positive film in a continuous stream.

The two machines together will make it possible to develop and print each day's take at the Willows studio and show it in the form of rushes the next morning. At present the exposed film is sent to Hollywood for developing and printing.

The company will start work on its 11th production, "The Devil in Ermine," fur-smuggling story, early in November. The cast is not yet known.

Capt. Nicholson Passes In East

Manager of Canadian National Steamships On B.C. Coast for 20 Years

Capt. Charles Howard Nicholson, for 20 years manager of Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian National steamship services on the British Columbia coast and one of the best-known and popular shipping executives of his day, died at Cobourg, Ont., Monday night.

He was 72 years of age and had been ill but a short time. He was a great raconteur, popular host and after-dinner speaker.

At the time the Grand Trunk Pacific entered the B.C. coastwise trade in 1910, Capt. Nicholson was sent out to Vancouver to inaugurate the steamship service, now Canadian National Steamships Ltd.

He superintended the construction of the G.T.P. docks at Vancouver and Victoria and officially

Action Sought On Float Plan

Council Suggests Ottawa Name Engineer to Pass On Fish Wharf

A complete brief on negotiations which have proceeded between the city and federal authorities in Victoria's efforts to secure a floating wharf for fishing boats has been drafted at the City Hall for submission to Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport.

The brief will be forwarded on the recommendation of Alderman W. T. Straith, one-man harbor committee, who seeks, as a means of securing speedy action on the proposal, the appointment of an independent engineer to pass judgment on the condition here.

The document contains a synopsis of all communications which have passed between the city and other interests and sketches arguments advanced for and against the construction of a float on the proposed site on the east side of Victoria harbor, immediately south of Johnson Street Bridge. It states the only private wharf owner in the locality supports the city's move which would not furnish unfair competition to him.

WOULD BREAK DEADLOCK

"As the council is desirous that this matter be adjusted as soon as possible, and in view of the deadlock resulting from the differences of opinion existing between officers of your department and the local agent of the Department of Transport, the council has directed me to respectfully request that you arrange for the early settlement of the question by appointing an independent engineer to carefully investigate the whole situation and either give final approval of the location suggested by the city or designate some other site that would be satisfactory to your department, in order that the work of constructing the floats may be proceeded with without further delay," the city's brief concludes.

welcomed the steamships Prince George and Prince Rupert when they came out from the builders' yards in England.

He remained on the Pacific coast until 1923, when he returned east to superintend the amalgamated Canadian National and Grand Trunk equipment on the Great Lakes.

A native of Belleville, Ont., Capt. Nicholson was engaged in navigation activities practically all his life except for a few years when he practiced in dentistry.

He started his career as a sailor at an early age as a cabin boy on the Great Lakes. With his earnings he put himself through Queen's University.

Later he graduated from John Hopkins University in dentistry, but after practicing for a few years in Rochester, N.Y., he returned to the sea and gave up his practice. He came back to Canada, where he was made traffic manager of the Muskoka Lakes Navigation Company.

After 20 years on the B.C. coast, Capt. Nicholson returned to Toronto, where he was made manager of the Ontario Car Ferry Company, a post which he held for six years until his retirement five years ago.

The funeral took place yesterday at Cobourg.

Street Lighting Change Complete

The complete switch-over to the modern 200 watt nitrogen lamps from the arc lamps in the city will be finished by this evening. Total costs of the work, which improves lighting, reduces power charges and eliminates radio interference, will be absorbed by the saving in the year's budget, Alderman W. T. Hawkins said.

Next year a considerable economy will be achieved through the change.

ORILLIA TAKES LEAD IN BOXLA

Young Terriers Beat Vancouver Bluebirds in Opening Minto Cup Game

ORILLIA—Orillia Baby Terriers held a one-game lead over Vancouver Bluebirds today in their race for the Canadian Junior Lacrosse championship. Terriers came from behind Monday night to beat the coast team 11 to 10 in the first of the best-of-five series for the Minto Cup.

Second game of the series will be played here tonight and the third Friday. The fourth and fifth games, if necessary will be played here November 1, and in Toronto November 3.

Terriers trailed 3 to 4 at the end of the first quarter and 6 to 5 at half time. The three-quarter tally was deadlocked at 8 to 8 then Orillia outscored the coast team 3 to 2 to win the game. At one point in the second quarter Bluebirds led 6 to 1, but a scoring spree by the Terriers cut down the margin while they held off their opponents.

Bob Lee of Vancouver and Terriers Cassidy led the scoring honor list with three goals each. Good for two points apiece were Bradbury and Jimmy Douglas of Vancouver and Worsencroft, Terrier defenceman.

English Sports Writer Calls For Pro Rating For Hockey Players

LONDON—Claiming "every one knows" hockey players in England are paid, Trevor Wignall, the well-known sports writer, believes "a great burden has been made in still labelling hockey with the amateur tag."

Referring to recent holdouts by some players, Wignall, writing in the Daily Express, says: "All the arguments this season have come from men who refused the terms offered them, and it strikes me that the height of absurdity has been reached with the announcement that this winter a weekly limit of £96 (about $480) only will be permitted as expenses for a team."

"I understand this will work out at £8 ($40) per week for each player. But wouldn't it be more sensible if this were plainly written down as wages?"

"It is customarily said that when tennis stars are made offers to join the professional ranks, what bothers them is the possibility of losing special status. Ice hockey players are not, in the main, drawing-room decorations, and scarcely one of them would argue that his position as a wage-earner would interfere with his society leanings."

WAR ADMIRAL IN SIXTH WIN

LAUREL, Md.—War Admiral, three-year-old champion, returning to the track after a five-month layoff because of a broken hoof, captured the $1200 Churchill Handicap, 1 1/4 miles feature yesterday.

The little brown son of Man o' War beat Anierod entered by J. A. Manfuso. E. D. Shaffer's Florida ran third.

The Glen Riddle Farm's colt romped home two and a half lengths in front, for his sixth consecutive victory. He covered the distance in 1:46 flat. He was ridden by Charlie Kurling.

They paid: War Admiral, $2.80, $2.40 and $2.20; Anierod, $2.80 and $2.50; Florida, $2.80.

FARR FIGHTS COURT MOVE

Ted Broadbrib, Manager, Seeks to Restrain Boxer From Appearing

LONDON—Tommy Farr, British Empire heavyweight boxing champion and his manager, Ted Broadbrib, exchanged a series of blows through their lawyers yesterday when Broadbrib sought an interim injunction to restrain Tommy from participating in boxing exhibitions here except under his management.

Farr maintains the contract has been mutually broken. His affidavit alleged that during his fight with Joe Louis, Broadbrib virtually blinded him for two rounds of the fight by an overdose of eye lotion and mishandled him throughout his United States visit, "as a result of which I cannot bear him in my presence."

Broadbrib's counsel "accused Farr of 'seeking to kick down the ladder by which he climbed the fence.'"

The hearing was adjourned.

EDDIE SHORE BACK IN FORM

Boston Bruins Defence Ace Hitting Fast Clip in Training

BOSTON—Eddie Shore, Boston Bruins' great defenceman, "is in the best physical condition I have ever seen him," Weston Adams, club president, said today, after returning from the Bruins' training camp at Hershey, Pa.

"On his farm near Edmonton this summer Eddie has conditioned himself for six months for this season's hockey," said Adams. "He is going about his work at Hershey with the enthusiasm of a rookie."

Adams said Shore is the "big news" of the Bruins' camp this year and he expects the big fellow to play a major part in the club's National Hockey League campaign. Eddie suffered a back injury last season and did not see much action.

"Shore has taken Flash Hollett under his wing," continued Adams. "He knows it's his job to bring Flash along because they are going to play together all season, and it's the realization of Hollett's ambition to play alongside the man he hero-worshipped as a boy."

The Bruins are rapidly rounding into shape at Hershey and Coach Art Ross is using Dit Clapper and Jack Portland on his other defence. Bill Cowley is between Ray Gettiffe and Charlie Sands on one line with Milton Schmidt, Bobby Bauer and Porky Dumart forming another attack.

Ross is experimenting with a third string, using both Captain Cooney Weiland and Art Jackson, obtained from Toronto Maple Leafs, between Leroy Goldsmith and Alex Motter.

Bookmakers claim they were hard hit by Punch's success. One of the big ones said: "There will be at least $500,000 ($2,225,000) to be settled at the Victoria Club. It was the biggest betting race I have ever known, including the Derby in 1929. It is impossible to estimate the amounts won by an Artist's Prince and Punch doubles."

(The Cambridgeshire and the Cesarewitch are the big "autumn double." Thousands of race followers make "parlays" on the two events.)

Bookmakers generally would have preferred a victory by Faltes Vos Jeux, who was not backed with "inspired" money.

Mr. Westhead, the winning owner, commented: "I had a good win. It would have been much more had it rained earlier, but I never lost confidence, although Greeko (another starter) finished ahead of Punch recently in a gallop."

Punch's trainer, C. V. Tabor, twice previously had conditioned Cesarewitch winners—Furore in 1927 and Arctic Star in 1928. It was Jockey Sammy Wragge's first Cesarewitch victory.

Two Stars At Atlas Theatre

William Powell and Luise Rainer Play in "Emperor's Candlesticks"

Bundled in furs, William Powell walked the length of a railway coach in the Vienna station, entered a compartment and removed his cap and coat.

In another compartment, Luise Rainer gazed through the window to the railway station scene—but Powell and Miss Rainer did not meet.

But the two stars who last were teamed in the acclaimed best motion picture of 1936, "The Great Ziegfeld," winner of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences award, were together again in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Emperor's Candlesticks," which will be shown at the Atlas Theatre today.

Bing Crosby To Be Starred Here

As impressive a cast as will be found in any movie has been assembled by Paramount for its new comedy with music, "Double or Nothing," which will open tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre.

With Bing Crosby and Martha Raye in the star positions, the cast includes such popular entertainers as Andy Devine, Mary Carlisle, William Frawley, Fay Holden, Samuel S. Hinds, William Henry, William Henry and others, and also has specialty bits from that famed comedy team the Calgary Brothers, the noted eccentric dancing team of Amos and Arno, Alphonse Berg, Tex Morrissey, Frances Faye and Ed Rickard.

"Rhythm In Clouds" To Open Tomorrow

Tin Pan Alley is the theme and locale of "Rhythm In The Clouds," Republic musical production which will open at the Plaza Theatre for a run of three days starting tomorrow.

Pretty Patricia Ellis portrays a girl-singer who, penniless, invades the apartment of a successful male member of her craft in his absence, and sells her songs under his name.

Old Pit Lepine, his hair silvering, but still swinging an educated stick, pivots Joffre (Dizy) Desilets and George Mantha, whose flashing skates seem to carry all their former speed. On another line are Armand Mondou, Polly Drouin and Rod Lorrain, all three of whom spent considerable time last winter commuting between the N.H.L. and the Int-Am. George Brown, whose amputated leg kept him on the sidelines most of 1936-37, is fighting for a berth, too.

Will Cude, the wily Welshman, will be between the pipes again. And just for reserve there'll be young Paul Gauthier from Minneapolis. He'll be farmed out, on call, this year.

That set-up leaves Hart confident nothing much in the way of trouble can hit Canadians this year. "A play-off berth, I hope," he says. "Maybe not first, but the teams that beat us will have to play hockey to do it."

Cecil's looking to the future, too. Of his rookie crop, he figures two or three will be signed to pro contracts and farmed out to New Haven Eagles. In a year or so, they'll be moving in as age and the pace take their toll of the veterans.

Man Freed of Robbery Has Contract in Hollywood For $1,000,000

ELIZABETHTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Accused of a seven-year-old robbery charge, John Montague plotted today a new and richer chapter in an already amazing life.

Shortly after an Adirondack Mountain jury had freed the fabulous golfer of movie stars, officials of the Paramount Studios announced in Hollywood "Mysterious Monty" had signed a contract amounting to $1,000,000 in seven years.

The pact was signed with Everett Crosby, Bing's older brother, before Montague came to New York State for trial, and calls for appearances on the radio, in pictures and as a professional golfer competing in the nation's most famous tournaments.

Montague's first radio appearance probably would be on Bing's next programme, he said. Tentative plans also call for a series of golfing movie shorts, a part in Bing's next picture, "The Badge of Policeman O'Rourke."

Here, however, as the dimpled mystery man of golf read congratulatory telegrams on his acquittal, he refused to discuss future plans at length, but said he hoped to find permanent residence in the motion picture land, where he won acclaim by his extraordinary golfing feats.

JURY'S DECISION

Only a few hours before, a jury of 12 manual laborers had walked into a jammed little old-fashioned courtroom Tuesday night and handed down the verdict.

"We find the defendant not guilty of first degree robbery," The spectators jumped to their feet and cheered lustily. Montague was all smiles.

But elderly presiding County Judge Harry E. Owen banged his gavel, ordered the spectators out of the aisles and looked sternly at the jury.

"Gentlemen, this verdict is not in accord with what I think you should have returned. That, however, is up to you," he said.

Before the jury was discharged, and just after defence Counsel James M. Noonan had personally thanked the jury, Montague rose with a smile on his face and said:

"Gentlemen of the jury—"

Judge Owen banged his gavel.

"This is no show," he barked.

It took the jury four and one-half hours to reach its verdict.

General Motors Earnings Down

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corporation today reported earnings of $42,118,179 for the quarter ended September 30, equivalent to 99 cents a common share.

This compared with $63,348,545 or $1.48 the previous quarter and $32,530,000, or 75 cents a share for the corresponding quarter of 1936.

The net earnings for the first nine months of 1937 were $148,074,335, against $168,314,959 for the first nine months of 1936. Share earnings for the latest nine months were $3.46 compared with $3.92 in the like 1936 period.

No hog sales; Tuesday's prices: Selects 7.65 to 7.70, hogs 7.15 to 7.20, butchers 6.65 to 6.70.

Ship Aground On East Coast

QUEBEC (CP)—The British freighter Blair ran aground today in a fog at Lanit Point in the Restigouche River between Dalhousie and Restigouche, N.B., the Quebec signal service reported.

The 2,100-ton vessel, bound from Montreal to England, was reported to have struck the point while proceeding slowly through a heavy fog blanket on the New Brunswick river.

Damage was not believed to be serious.

NEW YORK (AP)—A last minute flurry of short covering lifted the stock market into an irregular finish today.

Steels, rails, motors and a few utilities moved up briskly from their afternoon lows. In other sections of the list losses of fractions to about two points ruled.

Steel and Chrysler were outstanding leaders on the late upswing, each turning in fractional gains, although under morning highs.

U.S. Steel was the pivotal performer. While it gained early in the session in response to the first dividend on the common in five years, it slipped when Wall Street took second thought. Realizing that the dividend and good third quarter earnings of the corporation are now a thing of the past, analysts instead stressed one phase of the report—that which cited a "rather marked falling off in shipments" in recent weeks.

This, Wall Street men said, was typical of reports coming to hand from other industries. It carried with it the implication of a slower pace of heavy industry and probable reduction in earnings during the next several months.

Transactions approximated 1,100,000 shares.

MEN WHO FEEL OLD

Get Back New Youth, Energy, Vitality

Too many men to-day feel tired out all the time - can't work, hate to get up in the morning, haven't the vitality to do the things they used to do. A weak unhealthy liver caused by modern living, soft foods, lack of exercise, is the chief reason. Your liver is the storehouse for glucose or the "energy part" of the food you eat - it supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands. If it is not strong and active no wonder you feel old! Take "Fruit-A-Tives", it will build up your liver like nothing else will. You'll be surprised how young you soon feel. 25c, 50c, all Druggists.

Royal Commission May Alter Provincial Set-up Johnson Tells Liberals

Findings of the Royal Commission on provincial affairs may result in considerable change being made in the British North America Act, Byron Johnson, former member of the provincial Legislature for Victoria, told a meeting of the Ward Two Liberal Association yesterday evening.

In a general reference to provincial affairs, Mr. Johnson said there was something wrong when it became necessary for people to elect such a government as there was in Alberta. The disallowance of acts would not stop discontent, he pointed out, adding that in his opinion lack of balance between east and west was the cause of unrest.

Mr. Johnson also spoke of the need to care for youth in these times and noted the government had spent $12,500 on playgrounds in British Columbia. Public money could be spent in no better way than to encourage young people to play group games, he thought.

In his concluding remarks, Mr. Johnson urged the meeting to elect a Liberal member in the forthcoming by-election.

The meeting unanimously supported a resolution suggesting that a special meeting be called at the discretion of the executive for the naming of ward delegates to the Liberal nominating convention. Refreshments were served by ladies of the association.

Dr. H. B. Fantham Dies In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Dr. Harold Benjamin Fantham, 62, head of McGill University's zoology department, scientist and internationally-known educationist, died here Tuesday after a month's illness.

He was author of more than 100 scientific papers.

Born in Birmingham, Eng., Prof. Fantham was educated at University College, London, the Royal College of Science, London, and at Christ's College, Cambridge.

Superfluity Sale Will Help Charity

With the proceeds going to charity, the Victoria Rotary Club will stage its annual superfluity sale at the Thomas Plimley Ltd. garage, Vancouver and Yates Streets, on Wednesday, November 3.

Last year's sale netted some $500 and it is hoped that this year the figure will be higher still.

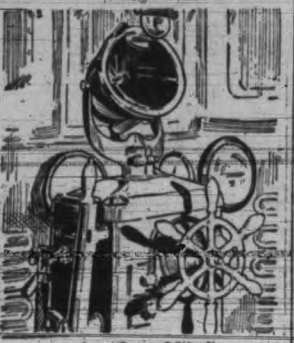

Clothing, furniture, household goods and bric-a-brac of all sorts will be on sale, starting at 1.30. The Boy Scouts have volunteered to help the club in collecting, gifts of discarded goods for inclusion in the sale, and arrangements will be made for transportation at Rotary headquarters, Garden 7711.

Crossing the Atlantic III—THIRD DAY AT SEA

If the great, fast-moving engines of an ocean liner can be called the heart of the ship, the "bridge" is the head. It is the place where the captain and other chief officers spend most of their time.

The bridge is near the front of the ship, and a clear view of the sea ahead can be obtained from it. Passengers are not allowed to go there as a rule, but the captain kindly gave me permission when I told him I would like to tell readers of our column about it. One of the interesting things I saw was the "Iron Mike," also called the "Metal Mike." This is a device which makes it more simple to steer a vessel.

In the old days the pilot or the quartermaster had to stay at the wheel all the time, moving it this way and that during the ocean crossing. Nowadays the more modern liners have "Iron Mikes." The Mike is set in a certain direction, and the vessel travels along without anyone touching the wheel. In case of fog, a seaman takes the wheel. The steering is also done by hand when the vessel is entering or leaving a harbor.

Officers of the ship showed me other interesting things on the bridge. One of these was a kind of speedometer. By turning a button, an officer started a hand moving across a dial. It did not stop moving until it reached the figure showing the speed at which we were going. At the moment when the test was made for me, we were traveling 31 knots an hour, in other words, more than 35 land miles per hour.

The officer showed me a device used to learn the depth of the water. Sound waves are sent down to the bottom of the sea, from which they "bounce back." The rate at which sound travels through salt water is known. The time taken for the sound to go to the bottom, then back again, tells the depth of the water. An ocean liner moving at high speed cannot get echoes from very deep water, but testing to a depth of a quarter of a mile, or so, takes care of all needs.

A chart which was shown me on the bridge gave a good idea of the ups and downs of the ocean bottom. In some places there are great cliffs with steep sides going down hundreds of feet.

Movie Soon On Drug Fatalities

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A motion picture based on the deaths caused by a sulfanilamide elixir will be filmed soon, the Schulberg Studios said today. B. P. Schulberg said his film would "expose the inadequacies of the United States pure food and drug laws." The picture, "Permit to Kill," will star Edward Arnold.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1937

According to astrology this is an uncertain day in planetary government. There is a promising sign for planning and for future efforts.

Good news affecting many merchants and manufacturers is forecast, but it may favor large capitalists more than the smaller business man.

This is a favorable date for entering into new partnerships or commercial ventures. It is lucky for signing contracts and leases.

Deception in certain international negotiations is prophesied. Diplomats come under a sway that presages many perplexities.

Where Are the Words of Yesterday?

Dorothy Dix

Few Subjects Are now Taboo

DO YOU ever think how many words and phrases have become virtually obsolete in the last 20 years, and how the whole trend of conversation has altered? There is no better yardstick by which to measure the changes that have taken place, for we would be almost as unintelligible to our children if we talked to them in Chaucer English as we would be if we used the vocabulary in vogue when we were sweet-and-20 and up-to-date.

In those days, for instance, certain subjects were taboo and never mentioned except in private. Matters of sex were not discussed in polite society. Now they are the favorite dinner-table topics. People did not describe the particulars of their diseases to any one but their physicians. Now we cannot choose but listen to every detail of their major and minor operations, and the former they were the more they publicized them. Then family scandals were shushed up, and you couldn't have drawn any detail about a daughter's elopement or a son's wild cat crop out of their parents with wild horses. Now they call in the reporters and give spicy interviews to the newspapers.

Then there were stories that men never told in the presence of women. Now it is the men who have to blushing retire from the room when women begin to tell stories. Then "hell" and "damn" were words that were seldom heard outside of a church. Now they are the prop and stay of all conversation, and the younger generation would be almost inarticulate if deprived of them. Swearing—can you imagine it—was considered vulgar, especially for the fair sex. The most that any well-brought-up girl could say under any provocation was "Oh fie!" or "Goodness me!" But the modern debutante's supply of oaths turns a mule-skinner green with envy.

In those ancient days "woman's sacred influence" was a theme on every tongue. People actually believed in it. Novels were based on it. Clergymen preached about it. Orators implored women to save the world by using their sacred influence. But when did you ever hear anybody mention woman's sacred influence in these days? Even to recall it is like fetching down something from the hair trunk in the attic that you haven't thought of for years and years and that the children never heard about.

In those days also part of the technique of courtship was for the girl to "reform" the man. It was really her trump card. Her role was to be very pure and saintly and his to be very wicked; and she was always lifting him up to her higher level and sending him good books and telling him how she prayed for him every night. And when a woman prays for a man her prayers are always answered by her getting him. But the reformation route to the altar was definitely closed when girls took to smoking and drinking and petting.

Then, the meaning of words has changed. It used to be that the ambition of every girl was to be a lady, and every mother's admonition to her little daughter was, "Now try to act like a little lady." But you could probably offer a girl of today no more deadly insult than to call her a lady, unless you were to say that she was "sweet" or "a nice girl." She has no desire to be any of these things. She wants to be considered tough, hard-boiled, a good sport, sophisticated.

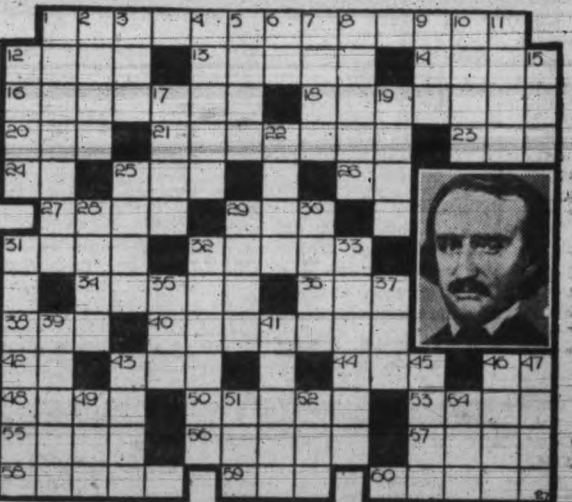

Modesty is another word that you hear as seldom as you see it illustrated in real life, yet there was a time when it was considered that the choicest compliment you could pay a girl was to call her "modest." Now she would just as soon that you call her a "trump" and a "back number" and be done with it.

Blush is another obsolete word. It has fallen into disuse because the thing it described has ceased to exist. Probably no youth has even seen a maiden blush and he knows of it only by hearsay. As a matter of fact he couldn't detect a blush, even if there were one, under the layers of cleansing cream and foundation cream and vanishing cream and rouge and powder with which every girl coats her face; yet, believe me, they have missed something in not seeing the soft color come and go on a girl's cheeks.

And there are other words and phrases, such as "mother's little helper" and "duty" and "obligation" and "obedience" and "until death do us part," marriages that are passing out of use. And with them go some mighty fine ideals.
